HOOVER AFFIXES SIGNATURE TO RELIEF BILL RELEASING $2,122,000.00 FOR UNEMPLOYED

VETERANS GIVEN 24 HOURS TO QUIT ERSTWHILE HOMES

Sweeping Evacuation Order Issued by District Authorities in Effort To Clear Expeditionary Force From Washington

HINT OF TROUBLE FOLLOWS DECREE

Must Return All Guard Property by August 1 and Get Off Public Property by August 4.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(AP)—A sweeping evacuation order directed against the bonus marchers today by the commissioners of the District of Columbia gave the veterans two weeks to vacate virtually every building and vacant lot now occupied by the army.

By tomorrow night all government buildings occupied within Washington and all private buildings taken by the men without consent of owners must be emptied. By August 1 all tents and rolling kitchens borrowed from the national guard must be returned. By August 4 all public property must be vacated.

The order, addressed to the superintendent of police, Pelham D. Glassford, said:

"You will see that the members of the bonus expeditionary force are notified of the above in order that they may not rest under the belief that they will be permitted to remain in their present unsanitary locations throughout the summer.

"No Exceptions."

"While great latitude has heretofore been allowed with reference to the enforcement of regulations and ordinances... after the times fixed above you will make no exceptions in their enforcement in the case of the bonus marchers."

If the orders are fully carried out, apparently it will mean the end of the bonus army which has been quartered on Washington since early June, since before the house voted payment of the bonus only to have the senate kill the plan.

More than 5,000 of the veterans are believed still in the scattered ramshackle camps, but hardly any are on grounds not covered by today's order. At one time they housed approximately 20,000 men.

Walter W. Waters, commander-in-chief of the principal branch of the army, was not disposed to accept the edict as the end of the extraordinary expedition.

Enforcement Problem.

"They can issue orders," he said, "but I don't know how they are going to enforce them."

That, however, was Glassford's problem.

He made sure that all the men got word by having an airplane fly over the outlying camps dropping copies of the instructions with a notation that Waters had been asked to pass them on.

Asks Lower Tariff

OTTAWA, July 21.—(AP)—Canada struck into the heart of the problem of the imperial economic conference at its opening session today by proposing to lower her own tariff walls for British empire products, if the empire would do the same for her exports.

But through her premier, R. B. Bennett, she warned that there should be no preferences that would isolate the British empire from the rest of the world.

This qualification was particularly significant since 70 per cent of British empire trade in the past has gone to foreign countries. American interests were vitally involved because the United States in 1929 got a major share of the commerce of the British dominions.

The Canadian premier's proposal followed close upon an impressive opening ceremony which began with carillon bells and booming guns announcing the arrival of Lord Bennett, governor-general of Canada, at 11 a. m.

Accompanied by Premier Bennett, the governor-general ascended the speaker's dais and read a message from King George, urging co-operation since "the British empire is based on the principle of co-operation."

Stanley Baldwin, of Great Britain, next proposed the election of Mr. Bennett as permanent chairman, and, seconded by Stanley Bruce, of Australia, the motion was carried unanimously.

The Canadian premier's first act was to propose the customary message of loyalty to the king. The delegates rose to the unanimous adoption of the first proposed motion—a motion which incidentally did not include the word "loyalty."

The Irish Free States, whose dail eireann recently voted to abolish the oath to the king, stood with the other delegates.

In moving the election of Mr. Bennett, the head of the British delegation stated the purpose of the conference, echoing the idea of co-operation voiced by the king. He said the conference marks a crossroad.

"One thing is certain," he said, "and that is the closer imperial unity."

More Opportunities.

Alluding to the fact that preferences were already in force, the British cabinet member said the opportunities in this direction were by no means exhausted.

Then came New Zealand with qualified approval and, through J. C. Coates, the head of her delegation, she even offered in certain cases to increase her tariff on foreign goods.

Speaking for the Irish Free State, Sean T. O'Kelly declared his country was willing to co-operate but said that Free State acceptance of general principles of economic relationship must be governed by the degree to which they serve the interests of the people of the Free State.

Apparently O'Kelly referred to the current tariff war between Great Britain and the Free State which was started after Ireland had withheld land annuities due in London. Great Britain retaliated by imposing a 20 per cent general tariff, and the dail eireann retorted in kind. Its tariff bill, however, has not been finally passed.

The conference passed swiftly to night on opening declarations to the less impressive consideration of methods of work. Heads of delegations met and decided to appoint five committees.

1. Promotion of trade within the commonwealth.
2. Customs administration.
3. Commercial relations with foreign countries.
4. Monetary and financial questions.
5. Methods of economic co-operation.

Grandi Is Appointed Ambassador to Britain

ROME, July 21.—(AP)—Dino Grandi was appointed today as the Italian ambassador to Great Britain.

Official announcement of the appointment was made at the foreign office which Premier Mussolini took over yesterday in a general reorganization of the cabinet.

Signor Grandi, who relinquished the foreign ministry to his chief, started on a month's vacation this afternoon.

Plague of Grasshoppers Ravaging Georgia Crops

FORT VALLEY, Ga., July 21.—(AP)—An army of grasshoppers, green and yellow ones, a variety never seen in this section in other years, is moving northward through Peach county at a steady rate, increasing in number and leaving crop destruction in its wake.

The grasshoppers are said to have come out of a wheat field attacking corn and cotton crops in the Miami Valley farm of former State Senator J. E. Davidson. They were first discovered Wednesday, but tonight many acres of corn had been stripped of its foliage and nothing was left in a large cotton field except barren cotton stalks and the cotton bolls.

In an effort to stop the advance of the pests, the fields are being sprayed ahead with deadly poisons. The grasshoppers continued over one of these fields, it was said, without being checked in the slightest.

Mr. Davidson, who is one of the state's first twelve master farmers, said that he would appeal for government aid to combat the pests. He considered the situation alarming, because, he said, the army is growing rapidly in number and if not wiped out will ruin middle Georgia crops overnight.

It was learned tonight that grasshoppers have been discovered in another wheat field in another section of the county.

CANADA OPPOSES ISOLATION POLICY IN BRITISH EMPIRE

Plans To Merge Rails Are Approved by I. C. C.

Commission Creates Independent System
Around Delaware and Hudson, Shifts
C. I. & L. to A. C. L. and Southern.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(AP)—The four great eastern trunk line railroads today were granted the right to consolidate most of the eastern carriers into four systems but not exactly in the form or under the conditions they desired.

The interstate commerce commission, modifying its own consolidation plan of 1926, broke up the Wabash-Seaboard system; created a new independent system around the Delaware and Hudson; and in various ways changed about the plan proposed by the roads.

It barred the Pennsylvania railroad from direct entry into New England and forbade that system's being consolidated under the approved plan until all holdings of the company and its subsidiaries in the Pennsylvania Corporation, in New England railroads are sold or placed in the hands of trustees.

Clayton anti-trust decisions were abrogated, the Pennsylvania being authorized to absorb the Wabash Railway and the Baltimore & Ohio and the Western Maryland. Corporation, in New England railroads are sold or placed in the hands of trustees.

It took away from the Baltimore & Ohio the one-half interest originally allocated to it in the Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville railroad, the Monon, and left the line with its present owners, the Louisville and Nashville (part of the Atlantic Coast Line system), and the Southern Railway System. The Baltimore & Ohio had sought complete control.

What the effect of the modified approval will have, none could say. Executives of the four systems, the Baltimore & Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York Central and Chesapeake & Ohio—who broached the plan on October 1 last, stated at hearings last winter that unless the scheme was approved without change the plan would fall through. Since that time business conditions have changed so that no one today could predict the outcome.

The decision lops off one branch of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western and gives it to the Chesapeake & Ohio so that road can reach Scranton and Olean, N. Y., via Chenango Forks, N. Y. The New York Central is given all the rest of the line, but the Chesapeake & Ohio

KEY AND RUSSELL TO CONFER TODAY ON RELIEF PLANS

Mayor Will Insist New Sewer Be Included in Projects for Which U. S.
Aid Will Be Asked.

Mayor James L. Key Thursday afternoon planned to prepare an extensive program of improvements for Atlanta and its environs in a conference with Governor Richard B. Russell at 11:30 o'clock this morning.

Chief among the proposals which the mayor will insist be incorporated in the projected improvements will be complete modernization of the sewer system of the city and surrounding territory to relieve what he termed "the most pressing civic problem facing the combined governments of Atlanta and Fulton county."

As Key prepared for the conference the governor, he asserted, he believes that about $50,000,000 of the $2,122,000,000 dollar relief fund which congress set up, and from which Atlanta hopes to get about $10,000,000, will be distributed in Georgia. "Thus giving added impetus to business and reviving hope in every line of trade."

Key Wednesday was advised by a committee of attorneys he selected for a conference held at his office that any relief funds from the federal government, in which Atlanta hoped to participate, would have to be approved by the governor and also his recommendation, and he set about immediately to obtain a conference.

As soon as he and Governor Russell reached accord on the matter he expects to call a special session of the Atlanta Special Session of the Georgia General Assembly for a conference held at his office that any relief funds from the federal government, in which Atlanta hoped to participate, would have to be approved by the governor and also his recommendation, and he set about immediately to obtain a conference.

Atlanta Records High of 94; Torrid Wave Reveals
No Sign of Relief.

With 12 days of 90 degrees and above weather behind Atlanta, the city again today faces more heat, with no hope in sight for a break, in the forecast of Arthur H. Scott, meteorologist. The official forecast for today reads: "still fair and warm."

The mercury started off well enough Thursday with 75 degrees for its low reading but by 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon had climbed to 93.3 degrees and a few minutes after 3 o'clock had reached a maximum for the day of 94 degrees. This was two degrees higher than the day before and four higher than Tuesday.

Today's high temperature is slated to reach 94 degrees again, Scott declared, with a minimum of 76 or 78 degrees.

Ironically enough, while Atlanta suffered beneath oppressive heat freezing temperatures were just three miles away—straight, this was found to be the case early Thursday morning when Lieutenant L. H. Meyer, marine corps reserve pilot, formerly of Great Lakes, Ill., took to the air for the first natural flight to be made under bureau of the local weather bureau.

The new system takes a pilot aloft to a level of 17,500 feet, or 3,270 feet above the ground, where weather observations are made at dawn. The temperature Thursday morning in the high altitudes was 18 degrees.

The new system supplants the old system of flying kites with instruments attached and an aero-meteorograph which takes automatic readings in the air. The plane, a biplane, is piloted by a pilot who is also a meteorologist.

On the side of the flying, the work will be in charge of Victor W. Randecker, an ex-navy man.

TRAGEDY, HUMAN MINGLE AS HEAT DEATH TOLL RISES

CHICAGO, July 21.—(UP)—Tragedy was mingled with humor tonight as millions of people sweltered through the 12th day of a killing heat wave which threatened to become as serious as the national catastrophe which claimed 1,500 lives in 1930.

On the side of the flying, the work will be in charge of Victor W. Randecker, an ex-navy man.

By official count, the number in Chicago was 93. Of these, 31 were by drowning and 62 from heat prostration.

The 31 drownings included four persons who committed suicide because the excessive heat unbalanced their minds.

CRISP, RUSSELL CONTINUE DRIVE Are Busy in Widely Separated Areas.

Both Congressman Charles R. Crisp and Governor Russell today were driving hard Thursday in their race for the seat in the United States senate held by the late Senator William J. Harris.

The third district congressman, after a speech at Americus Wednesday, continued his speaking campaign at Valdosta Thursday morning and Thursday night spoke at Gainesville and then went on to White Sulphur Springs, a few miles northwest, to the dinner given by the Gainesville bar to Court of Appeals Judge I. H. Sutton and Superior Court Judge B. P. Gaillard Jr.

Both at Bainbridge and Thomasville Governor Russell said that instead of federal taxes are crushing the people of Georgia.

"It," he said, "I am to blame for what has happened in congress for the past ten years Governor Russell, who has been a member of the legislature that long, must accept blame for what has happened in the state administration."

Governor Russell, speaking at Gainesville Thursday afternoon, made his first reply to questions asked by Congressman Crisp about his support of the democratic ticket in 1928.

Crisp, in his first personal appearance speech at the Americus homecoming celebration Wednesday, declared that he spoke for the democratic ticket in 1928 and that his county went for Smith and Robinson. Pointing out that the governor's home county went republican, the congressman asked what Russell did to support the nominees.

"I voted and supported the democratic ticket in 1928 from top to bottom," the governor said in his Gainesville speech, "just as I have always done since I cast my first ballot, but I join with Governor Roosevelt in welcoming all republicans into the democratic party this fall and will be glad to have the vote of every man who will support the national democratic ticket this year, whether he voted for Hoover or Smith in 1928."

Would-Be Suicide Hurt On Way to Hospital

NEW ORLEANS, July 21.—(UP)—Matthew Toomey, the dentist, attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat and jumping in a lagoon at the City park today. Toomey was rescued and suffered more serious injuries than he had inflicted upon himself when the truck in which he was being rushed to a hospital crashed into another vehicle. Two other persons in the truck were also injured.

City Marks 68th Anniversary Of Beginning of Sherman's Siege

The wolves of war howled around the gates of Atlanta 68 years ago today.

In his merciless, pillaging march to the sea, General William T. Sherman and his Union forces besieged Atlanta on July 22, 1864, precipitating a battle in which Confederate soldiers bravely sought to stem the invader's crushing advance.

The story of the Battle of Atlanta is ably told in the yellowed pages of the Constitution of March 7, 1891, in an account by P. J. Moran, who told of "A City Defended by Her Own Sons Against Armed Invasion."

The Moran story relates Albert Howell's promotion to colonel on the field, the capture of the DeGress battery by the 42nd Georgia and other interesting events of that fateful day of the siege.

"Other cities were besieged during the war—other cities resisted the approach of the federal troops, but it is doubtful if a single one of them can point to Atlanta's singular record, in that the defenses were by men native to the locality, and who were, in very truth, defending their hearthstones," Moran said.

Moran's story relates the claim of some officers connected with Manigault's brigade that Colonel Walker, not yet on record in support of the party nominee.

The meeting will be held in Springfield, Mass., and also will be attended by P. Harold Buford, national committeeman from Maine, and Louis

Farley Seeks To Solidify Party's Eastern Support

BY ROBERT ST. JOHN.
NEW YORK, July 21.—(AP)—Two far-reaching steps were taken today to solidify eastern democracy behind the Roosevelt-Garner ticket.

James A. Farley, who will be commander in chief of the democratic campaign, went to New Jersey and praised the "sportsmanship" of Frank Hague, Jersey committeeman, who led "Al" Smith's floor fight at Chicago.

"At the same time plans were announced at Roosevelt headquarters for a peace meeting tomorrow between Farley and Governor Joseph R. Ely of Massachusetts, who placed Smith in nomination."

Ely is the only anti-Roosevelt leader not yet on record in support of the party nominee.

LEHMAN TO HEAL NEW YORK BREACH

Lieutenant Governor
Entry in Race To Cement
Roosevelt, Smith.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 21.—(AP)—Lieutenant Governor Herbert H. Lehman, an intimate friend of both Governor Roosevelt and former Governor Smith, is looked to as the doctor to heal the wounds inflicted by the bitter Smith-Roosevelt struggle for the democratic presidential nomination.

Mr. Lehman, who had luncheon with Governor Smith in New York yesterday, said today "we talked of many things, among them politics." Anything further should come from Governor Smith.

Lehman, who is the choice of both Roosevelt and Smith for the nomination for governor of New York, added that he would soon have a statement. It is presumed the statement will enter into the race for the office that Smith and Roosevelt have held for 12 of the past 14 years.

Lehman, a small, swarthy New York financier, voted for Roosevelt at the Chicago convention. He has, however, for many years been a close friend of Mr. Smith and during the former governor's campaign for the presidency in 1928 was one of the largest contributors to the campaign fund.

Smith, who left Chicago the day Roosevelt arrived for his acceptance speech, has promised his support for the party's candidates and its platform. Except for this he has never said a word in behalf of his successful rival.

Governor Joseph B. Ely, of Massachusetts, one of the outstanding Smith leaders at Chicago, has been equally noncommittal. Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, another Smith standard-bearer, however, has endorsed Mr. Roosevelt.

An effort has been made to placate Ely. It is understood that Joseph P. Kennedy, a Boston and New York financier, undertook to appease Ely. When Mr. Roosevelt stopped at Swampscott, Mass., the other day while he was en route to Albany from Portsmouth, N. H., friends of both Ely and Roosevelt sought to bring the matter up. Ely could not be reached.

Ely has an appointment Friday with James J. Farley, manager of Mr. Roosevelt's campaign.

Lehman, it was recalled, was one of a small group that in 1928 induced Mr. Roosevelt to run for the governorship. Mr. Roosevelt, at that time was reluctant to subordinate his fight against the after-effects of infantile paralysis. He was at Warm Springs, Ga., when the democratic convention met in Rochester.

Smith supplemented his appeal to Roosevelt with appeals by Lehman and John J. Raskob, then national committee chairman. In the end, however, it was Roosevelt's own running mate and in the four years he has been in Albany, the lieutenant governor has been one of his closest advisers.

The Roosevelt chiefs admit that with Smith and Ely supporting the ticket the campaign in New England will be simplified and the chances for victory improved.

Money Will Be Divided Between State and Federal Public Works and Use for Direct Relief of Unemployed.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(UP)—President Hoover today signed the $2,122,000,000 relief bill while applications totalling more than $337,950,000 for loans under the bill were awaiting presentation to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The measure is immediately effective. It makes available $300,000,000 to be loaned to states for relief of suffering among unemployed. It sets up a fund of a billion and a half dollars to be loaned states, municipalities, improvement districts and like legal utility units for financing of bridges, highway, tunnel and other public improvements. The remainder is available to finance public works projects for the government.

The president affixed his signature to the huge federal aid project a few moments after his public relations secretary, Theodore Joslin, had announced Mr. Hoover would not sign the bill today. The measure was given for the change in plans.

Routine Matter.

Joslin and Lawrence Richey, another White House secretary, were with Mr. Hoover when he signed the measure. The president issued no statement.

The money to be thrown into the chamber of commerce money. They are expected to give immediate impetus to business throughout the country. Federal agencies estimate jobs will be provided for more than 2,000,000 unemployed for a year, lessening the fear of a winter of suffering.

Numerous projects are dependent on the availability of cash money. California alone expects to borrow $200,000,000 to build great bridges across San Francisco bay and aqueduct bringing to its southern section water from the Colorado river. Utah and Montana are ready to go ahead with smaller projects as soon as the funds can be obtained. Other states have programs in the formulative stage.

Will Be Matched.

In most instances money borrowed will be matched by like funds from other sources. The billion and a half thus made available by the government can easily grow to approach $3,000,000,000.

FEDERAL HOME BANK SOUGHT FOR GEORGIA

A campaign to locate one of the federal home loan banks in Georgia was launched by the executive committee of the Georgia Building and Loan League meeting at the Henry Grady hotel here Thursday.

Fred Herndon, of Elberton, chairman of the committee, appointed Horace Russell, of Atlanta, past president of the league and of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce; W. H. Watson, of Macon, president of the league, and T. A. Lamar, past president, as a steering committee to direct the campaign. No one city was expressly favored by the committee.

Mr. Russell stated that co-operation of building and loan organizations in other southeastern states would be invited to have the southeastern states, from the Mississippi to the Potomac rivers, designated as one of the federal home loan bank districts, of which there are to be from eight to 12 established under terms of the bill passed by congress and now awaiting President Hoover's signature.

The projected district, he said, would contain approximately $300,000,000 in building and loan assets, or approximately one-twelfth of the total of $3,000,000,000 in building and loan assets throughout the United States.

The federal home loan banks, it was explained, will function to strengthen home loan financing institutions in the same way that the federal reserve banks function for commercial banks. A different type of financing is necessary for building and loan associations. Mr. Russell stated, because their funds are all loaned for home building with repayment arranged over a long period of years, requiring longer term credit than for commercial banking institutions whose loans are all made on a short term basis.

Other members of the executive committee are Julius McCurdy, Decatur; Clyde Shahan and Frank Gentry, of Rome, and O. W. Kincaid, of Moultrie.

Atlantan Finds Body of Father Lost 17 Years Ago in Mountains

Disappearance 17 years ago of the Rev. Thornton R. Sampson, of Austin, Texas, while on a lone hike from Grand Lake to Estes Park, was cleared up recently through identification by his son, Frank Sampson, of 89 Inman circle, of the remains of a man found beneath an overhanging rock in Fern Valley, southwest of the Rocky Mountain National Park. Mr. Sampson returned to Atlanta Wednesday from Denver, Col., where he went following a report that the skeleton of a man had been found in Fern Valley. Mr. Sampson identified the remains by a diary in a good state of preservation, a pipe which he carried and gave to his father and a knapsack. Dr. Sampson, who was president of the Texas Presbyterian Theological Seminary, was a close personal friend of the late President Woodrow Wilson, and his disappearance was followed by an exhaustive search of the route he was thought to have taken. Mr. Sampson expressed the opinion that his father's death followed a sleep in wet clothing on a cold night at an extremely high altitude. Dr. Sampson was buried in Fern Valley, five miles from where he died. In his early career, he was missionary in Greece and in Turkey.

Writ Plea Denied.
Assistant Solicitor John H. Hudson will seek an indictment today against Angelo Herndon, a negro, on a charge of attempting to incite to insurrection, it was revealed Thursday when the alleged "red" sought his freedom on a writ of habeas corpus before Judge Virlyn B. Moore. Mr. Hudson read a copy of the bill he will present to the grand jury and some of the literature he alleged was confiscated in the negro's home. Judge Moore ruled that unless Herndon has been indicted by 2:30 o'clock this afternoon he is to be released under a $5,000 bond.

MAKING HOT WEATHER FOODS TEMPTING.

Food that is good to look at doubles the pleasure of eating, and materially aids digestive processes to function properly. Especially in hot weather, when food does not overly much intrigue, it is necessary for the thoughtful housewife to give adequate attention to the details of making foods tempting.

Some foods, you know, when put on the table, look all wilted and just don't cure, while other are so perky with crisp greens and hard-set, colorful gelatin that they say, "Eat me!" to the tired soul.

Salads, for instance. Why always serve lettuce with them? Watercress is more suggestive of coolness and crispness, while a few mint leaves scattered discriminatingly about the salad bowl, or cocktail glass, simply breathe coolness and shandy spots and cool nooks. Leaf lettuce, too, from the home-grown gardens is a better appetite tempter in late summer than the forced heads. More vitamins in these things, from the green coloring, help to pep up lagging appetites.

Coleslaw, one of the winter's necessities, becomes a much sought after salad if made with the summer's new cabbage, and the salad itself changed from week to week. It is not necessary and is certainly poor food business, to serve red peppers, or pimientos in it. Vary the dressing, vary the garnishes, vary the seasonings. For summer, the jellied coleslaw blossoms forth with new interest, and if made with jellied tomato juice, is an interesting surprise. Home-made, cooked dressing goes well with this and is not so heating as the usual mayonnaise.

Another very good dressing is the old-fashioned, sour cream kind, with simply beating up sour cream, lemon juice and salt and pepper, perhaps a dash of paprika and a few grains of sugar to make it interesting.

This sour cream dressing is extra good with thinly-sliced, very crisp and cold cucumbers, too.

Don't forget the cottage cheese, nicely seasoned and very cold, to accompany vegetable salads, instead of so much meat during the hottest July weather. Cottage cheese furnishes the body with repair food, which does not overheat, unless, of course, you are the kind of housewife who seasons her cottage cheese generously with fresh cream.

Usually one or two foods made into a salad are better for the stomach in hot weather than salads made of many different kinds of foods. So keep the salads simple. Depend upon gelatin with different seasonings to vary the simple celery, cucumber and various tomato combinations. This does not over-tax the stomach and satisfies the appetite as well as a regular consumption of foods.

If there are small amounts of different vegetables left over, do not combine them all in a salad as you could very well do in the winter time, but make a light vegetable soup of them by adding water and a bouillon cube.

ESTABLISHED MANUFACTURERS JEALOUSLY GUARD QUALITY

Food Products With a Reputation Kept to High Standards.

To many persons trade-marks and copyrights are a puzzle. They cannot understand why a business concern will spend so much money to protect them for their products. They are amazed to learn that a large company will sometimes evaluate its "food" with actually more, in dollars and cents, than its physical properties. To such a company its trade-marks and copyrights, insuring the identity of its products, are the tangible evidences of the public's good will.

One company, let us say, has been manufacturing breakfast foods for 20 years. When a housewife buys a package of this company's product she knows it will be precisely as good as the last package she bought. If it isn't, she can get her money back without question from any reputable merchant in the land.

Suppose this company puts a new breakfast food on the market and, in its advertisements, tells the housewife that it contains certain ingredients, that it has certain nutritive

MISS MARY DAVIS DIES AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

Complications following an operation at a private Atlanta hospital Thursday ended in the death of Miss Mary Ethel Davis, 56, member of a prominent DeKalb county family, and widely known teacher and Red Cross worker in Decatur. She resided at 820 Sycamore street, Decatur, and had been associated with the DeKalb county Red Cross for the last 15 years. She was only a short time.

Funeral services are to be conducted at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon at the First Presbyterian church, of Decatur, in which she had held membership all of her life. The pastor, Dr. D. P. McGee, and the Rev. J. G. Patton, will officiate, and interment will be in the Decatur cemetery. Pallbearers will be Scott Candler, mayor of Decatur; Leon O'Neal, president of the Red Cross chapter; James F. Kirkpatrick, J. K. Muse, R. B. Cunningham and Homer George.

Miss Davis was born near Decatur, and spent most of her life there. She attended the Decatur public and high schools and was graduated from Agnes Scott College in 1896. For a number of years she taught school at Doraville and in Atlanta. She was connected with the United States Veterans' Bureau for some time, but took up Red Cross work in Atlanta shortly before returning to Decatur to work with that chapter in April of 1919. Well-known throughout DeKalb county, Miss Davis was active in church-work and civic enterprises. She was highly esteemed by her fellow citizens.

A brother, Robert F. Davis, and an uncle, Mose E. Davis, of Decatur, and several cousins, survive. A. S. Turner & Sons are in charge.

Laughing General Recognized As 'Strong Man' of Germany

NEW YORK, July 21.—(AP)—When the Von Papen government was established in Germany June 1, General Kurt Von Schleicher, the minister of defense, was recognized as the power behind the throne.

With the establishment of martial law in Berlin and Brandenburg, he now edges out from behind the throne and shows to the public part of the power he wields.

General Von Schleicher is an old-timer in the German army. Born April 7, 1882, he entered the Kadet school and in 1900 was assigned to the third guard regiment of foot. In the next 12 years he moved fast.

The honors list of 1912 showed him, then a lieutenant colonel, several notches ahead of Oskar Von Hindenburg, son of the man who is now president of Germany.

Von Schleicher is known to his intimates as a man who laughs often,

Power in Germany

GEN. KURT VON SCHLEICHER.

has a biting and keen sense of humor and an uncanny ability to size up human nature. At 50 he is one of the youngest of Germany's active generals.

He has been mixed up in exciting doings ever since the establishment of the republic.

In 1923 and 1924, when the mark dropped to almost nothing, he organized the defense forces to protect the young republic from disintegration.

As minister of defense he succeeded General Wilhelm Groener, under whom he had served. He was credited with having brought about the downfall of Groener.

General Groener had depended on Von Schleicher to "help pull the reichswehr (army) out of the mire of politics." But in the army Von Schleicher became one of the most powerful political forces of the nation.

During the war Von Schleicher saw active service on the western front.

SOVIET FAVORS BASIS OF HOOVER ARMS CUT

Gibson Dissents in Vote on Russian's Declaration at Geneva.

GENEVA, July 21.—(AP)—Maxim Litvinoff, soviet Russia's representative at the world disarmament conference, emerged today as an advocate of the basic principles in President Hoover's program calling for one-third reduction in all armaments, and Hugh Gibson, chief of the American delegation, appeared in the role of opponent.

The Russian demanded that the declaration, which is to be adopted before the conference adjourns until fall, be revised to include a specific recommendation for arms cuts of one-third. He forced a roll call and, with 16 members abstaining, the amendment was defeated, 30 to 5, with Mr. Gibson one of the 30.

Subsequently the American delegate's vote was explained with the assertion that he already had been committed to the draft text of the declaration.

This text was assailed from many quarters, but important portions of it, calling for substantial reduction in air forces and land armaments, survived intact.

Sections of the declaration asserting that the primary objective of the conference was to reduce means of attack, prohibiting air attacks against civilians and abolishing all aerial bombardment with certain reservations, were among those approved. Tomorrow the conference will go ahead with other details of the declaration.

WAR PERIL GROWS IN SOUTH AMERICA

Bolivia Declares State of Siege in Area Disputed With Paraguay.

LA PAZ, Bolivia, July 21.—(UP)—The Bolivian government, enthusiastically supported by the populace and the army, declared a state of siege to-day because the Gran Chaco frontier conflict with Paraguay is viewed as an aggression which may compromise the national peace.

Simultaneously, the government ordered its delegates to retire from the Washington conference for a non-aggression pact between the two contending nations. The situation was tense.

The action of the government, growing out of armed conflict at ports in the disputed Gran Chaco territory, spread high excitement and patriotic enthusiasm in the Bolivian republic, whose 3,100,000 residents are scattered from the high mountains La Paz region adjoining Chile and Peru, to the frontiers of Brazil and the Argentine on the east and south.

Paraguay, with a population of only 900,000, lies between Brazil and Argentina, with the controversial Gran Chaco jungle of 100,000 square miles separating it from Bolivia.

The attitude of the Bolivian population indicated they believed war was threatened as the climax of the frontier quarrel which three years ago threatened to plunge the two little republics into a series of studies on primary medical treatment for submission to the Red Cross.

Many manifestations continued, the largest occurring in La Paz. Workers paraded expressing confidence in the cabinet's action, and two large groups of students demonstrated in the streets.

At Potosi youths gathered at the garbages and demanded immediate entry into the army. Newspapers were filled with reports of the government's preparatory measures and the Gran Chaco clashes.

Hundreds of offers of foodstuffs and supplies were made. Officers of the Camacho and Abasco regiments at Oruro announced they would forego their salaries for the duration of the "war" and would require only a ration of bread and tobacco.

The cabinet, meeting with President Dr. Daniel Salanueva, approved a decree saying: "In view of the complications which may compromise the national peace and in view of the armed aggression in the southeast, it being urgent to adopt measures of extraordinary character, the cabinet decrees a state of siege throughout the republic."

It was then announced that the delegates at Washington were scheduled to leave immediately for home. The Paraguayan delegates were withdrawn several days ago, but upon the urgent pleas of neutral states, were ordered to halt in New York pending further instructions.

Minister of War Julio Gutierrez, in an announcement to the press, said he was assuming the ministry of foreign relations because Foreign Minister Zalles was going to Chile on leave of absence.

PARAGUAY IS SATISFIED WITH COURSE OF ROW
ASUNCION, Paraguay, July 21.—(UP)—The government and public appeared tonight to be satisfied with the latest developments in the Gran Chaco frontier region, where the cabinet declared that the national honor had been threatened by "recapture" of Fort Lopez in a clash with Bolivian forces.

The foreign minister confirmed that the Paraguayan delegates to the non-aggression pact conference at Washington would remain in the United States instead of returning home as previously ordered.

Girl, Chained in Room by Mother, Given Freedom by Camden Court

BY PAUL COMLY FRENCH.
CAMDEN, N. J., July 21.—(UP)—Lena Persiana, thin, undernourished child of 12, was happy tonight with the promise that she would be taken to some home where "nobody will ever chain you up."

Lena, complained in court today that she had been frequently bound with a steel chain, peddled in her room, and forced to make lamp shades which her father, Anthony Persiana, sold to a contractor on a piece-work basis.

Her chief accusation was leveled at her mother rather than her father, however.

"My dad was very good to me most of the time," she told Judge Pancoast today, "and when he whipped me it was because I deserved it. But my mother thought because I went with an older girl, who goes with the boys, that I was going with the boys, too, so I used to be chained up."

Lena escaped from her room yesterday, and went to an officer of the Child Welfare Association, who already had known of domestic trouble in the Persiana household. A warrant for the arrest of Persiana was sworn out, and the issue was tried before Judge Pancoast today.

For the time being, Lena was removed to the more homelike atmosphere of the Camden county detention home, and an attempt will be made to place her with a private family.

Persiana, who refused either to admit or deny that he had chained his daughter, told Judge Pancoast that she was "incorrigible" and that the punishment she had suffered had been because of her constant running away from home.

Officials at the county detention home tonight, however, said Lena for hours after she was taken to comfortable surroundings, were convinced she was telling the truth, and that Mrs. Persiana, who was responsible for the strange method of "punishment."

Cuban Police Raid Home of U. S. Banker

The home is in the suburb of Vedado.

In response to the protest, Cuban authorities immediately expressed their regrets and declared the secret police men had made an error. The nature of this error was not immediately apparent. It was not until, however, that the officers had intended entering a native home. They were very careful in the search and disturbed nothing.

350 PERSONS ILL WITH PTOMAIN

Merrymakers Poisoned on Outing Down Potomac River.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(AP)—Approximately 350 persons were stricken with ptomaine poisoning to-day while on an outing down the Potomac river.

Only one—a 76-year-old man—was in a serious condition, which was complicated by a heart ailment.

Washington hospitals were swamped with the victims, rushed there in ambulances, fire apparatus, taxis and private automobiles as soon as the Charles MacCallen, an excursion boat, docked late this afternoon from a resort point opposite Mount Vernon.

Doctors estimated at least 150 would need to remain in the hospitals overnight. Meanwhile, all was confusion as police tried to trace relatives. Some had gone to one hospital, some to another.

About 1,200 persons were on the excursion, organized by two Washington dairies. Nearly half of them became ill from eating the ordinary picnic fare of salads, sandwiches and the like.

Twenty or thirty were unconscious when the boat docked. Approximately 150 of the less seriously sick went directly to their homes.

A second boatload carrying 75 or 100 persons came in later tonight. Some of these also had become ill.

The hospitals were forced to set up cots in corridors to care for the sudden influx of patients. Doctors were recruited hurriedly. Many had been summoned long before the first boatload arrived, and were waiting on the pier.

Edmund Gosse, noted British critic, said his works might confidently be recommended to English readers "without the possibility of a blush."

He was elected to the Academy in 1904. He made two trips to America, the last in 1912, but he shunned the limelight and few Americans met him.

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 21.—(AP)—Dr. Martin O. Miller has resigned from the surgical faculty of the Louisiana State University medical center with a statement blaming political interference for removal of Dr. Emmett Irwin as head of the surgery department.

IMPROVEMENT OF ROAD IS DEMANDED OF STATE

Valdosta Body Launches Move To Have "Dangerous" Highway Repaired.

is a movement under way here to insist on action by the state highway department for what is termed "the very dangerous condition of a portion of United States Highway No. 41," north of Valdosta. This highway carries the greatest volume of traffic in any county in the state. From the Whitlatchee river bridge, four miles north of Valdosta, to the Tift county line, there are numbers of dangerous signs, indicating that traffic is passing at its own risk. The surface of the highway in many places has long since worn off, creating dangerous conditions and during the several years since the highway has been disintegrating, the state highway department, it is charged, has neglected to resur-face the pavement.

The movement is backed by the Chamber of Commerce and that organization takes the position that with additional funds now available from the federal government the highway should be put in perfect condition. The matter has been taken up with the chairmen of the department and also with C. Voreen, of Moultrie, members of the board in charge of south Georgia highway improvement.

PRISON BOARD BEGINS PROBE OF 3 DEATHS

Official Says Report Will Not Be Made Until Hearing Completed.

RAIFORD, Fla., July 21.—(AP)—Exhaustive investigation into the recent deaths of three convicts and charges of cruel treatment to prisoners at various road camps over the state was launched here today by Nathan Mayo, head of the Florida prison board.

The inquiry, held at the office of L. F. Chapman, superintendent of the state prison farm here, was instigated as an aftermath of the death of Arthur Maillefer, young Westfield (N. J.) prisoner, at the Sunbeam camp near Jacksonville; Frank Powell, convicted at the state farm here, and Harold Bradley, Pennsylvania convict who was shot to death when he attempted to escape from a camp in Martin county.

Two prison camp officers, Captain George Courton and Guard Solomon Higginsbotham, are under first-degree murder indictments in Maillefer's death.

Dr. C. D. Whitaker, prison physician, said Powell died of "acute dilatation of the heart."

In instituting the investigations, Mayo, who also is commissioner of agriculture, said, "We are going to have a thorough inquiry into these and other cases that have been brought to our attention and if we find any irregularities the officials in charge will be dismissed."

Twenty-seven convicts in prison garb paraded through the inquiry room today to give their testimony in the Maillefer and Powell cases.

The inquiry was recessed for an hour early tonight and resumed with 61 other prisoners from the Sunbeam camp called to give additional testimony in the Maillefer death. Mayo said a report would not be made on that case until the hearing is completed.

Another case which will be investigated, Mayo said, will be the recent shooting of J. J. Dennison, a convict, who attempted to escape from a camp near Kenansville.

$75,000 GOES TO BOYS IN FISHER CONTEST

Fruits of some 50,000 hours' hard work on the part of Georgia and North and South Carolina boys are being displayed this week at the Central Y. M. C. A., under the auspices of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild. The guild is preparing to distribute $75,000 in awards among boys of the United States and Canada who have built the finest Napoleonic coach models this year, and the entries for the three states, more than 50 in number, are being judged and displayed at the Y. from 8 to 10 o'clock.

Though the tiny red, blue and gold models are alike to the casual eye, the templates and gauges of the judges, who work at the disassembled variations here and there; and the aggregate of these variations from the standard set by the plans which the guild furnished to boys affords a basis for scoring each model. Even so, there is such marked uniformity among the numerous entries as to complicate the judges' task at the point where it is anything but play.

P. J. BROWN IS KILLED IN RUM CAR WRECK

Tragedy Halts Flight From Police; Gene Young, Hurt in Crash, Held.

A hot chase by police ended in death early Thursday morning for Pete J. Brown, 25, of 1052 Dickson place, and injury for his companion, Gene Young, when a car driven by Brown crashed into a fire hydrant at Pace's Ferry road and Randall Mill road, according to police records.

Young is held by police on suspicion. Radio Patrolmen S. W. Roper and R. C. Tugle, who were looking for two men who burglarized offices of the Fox Dry Cleaning Company, 126 Sixth street, reported that when they attempted to question Brown on Spring near Baker, he drove away.

The chase went out Spring to Peachtree and to Pace's Ferry road. On the latter street, Brown's car swerved from the road, struck the water plug and turned over several times, the officers said. Police reported that five gallons of whisky were found in the car, which, Roper and Tugle said, aroused their interest because it resembled the one reported to them as used by the burglars.

Funeral services for Brown will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from Peachtree Chapel of Brandon-Bond-Condon Co. The Rev. W. M. Albert will officiate. Interment will be in Magnolia cemetery.

Brown is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, and two brothers, James Brown Jr. and Elmo Brown.

ACTIVITY INCREASES IN VIRGINIA PLANTS

RICHMOND, Va., July 21.—(AP)—The United States employment service today reported increased activity in a wide variety of manufacturing plants in Virginia.

In a report by John R. Alpine, supervising director of the service, it is said that a majority of the large plants in the state were reported to be in operation, although several were on curtailed schedules.

The report said there was increased work in plants manufacturing silk, furniture, overalls, shirts, woolen goods, shoes, veneer, cellulose products, explosives, textile fiber and wood products, trunks and luggage, cement, chinaware, cigarettes and automobile assembly units.

Although reporting railroad operation still below normal, the director said there was general improvement in the demand for farm help. Building operation was said to be insufficient to absorb all of the trade but shipyards were reported to be fairly active.

Weak, Thin Blood Quickly Responds to New Yeast, Iron, Copper Treatment

Weak, thin blood, undernourishment and digestive troubles take a fearful toll in health, strength and suffering. They sap the stamina and nerve force, shrivel body tissues and bring on nervous and physical exhaustion. Victims of these pernicious conditions need a general building up of blood and nerves, and a strengthening of the digestive system.

Thor's Vitamin Compound, the new scientific treatment containing yeast, vitamins, iron and copper, often accomplishes results in days that formerly required weeks of tedious treatment by old-time methods. It cleanses the system of impurities, aids digestion, increases the appetite for wholesome, nourishing food, and promotes an increase in the vital, strengthening red corpuscles of the blood. The nervous system is strengthened naturally by improved circulation and increased metabolism.

If you are weak, thin, and have no endurance; suffer from acid conditions, poor digestion, and impoverished blood; if your skin is muddy and you are nervous and undernourished, ask your druggist today for this new scientific yeast, iron and copper treatment—Thor's Vitamin Compound. It costs only fifty cents at all good druggists. Hundreds of people are finding new health, strength and happiness through this new scientific preparation.—(adv.)

as gas gets staler—gas gets weaker

Do you know what happens when gas gets stale? It loses power! As staleness increases, the more volatile parts of gas evaporate. A chemical change takes place when gas is stored. And power decreases! Stale gas is feeble gas. Gives you a slower start. Sluggish pick-up. It is more apt to foul valves and carburetor—because stale gas becomes stickier as it grows older. Stale gas knocks more, too—particularly on hills.

The whole petroleum industry has long known these facts. And for the past several years, Gulf has been developing a system that assures you of getting FRESH gasoline! How? . . .

First, by giving you the best gasoline that can be made—by so refining this gas that the elements that cause rapid deterioration of gasoline are eliminated. Hence, Gulf gas stays FRESH longer.

Second, by taking this FRESH-MADE, PEAK-POWERED gas and rushing it to you in a hurry.

From the moment it is made, Gulf gas never gets a chance to get stale. The whole Gulf organization has been geared up to high speed. Huge Gulf refineries have been placed in many sections of the country—so that a stream of FRESH-MADE gas can be kept flowing into every one of the 45,000 Gulf filling stations. A vast fleet of fast trucks speeds FRESH gas to Gulf stations every day in the year! . . . Get FRESH gas—packed with power. Get Gulf. Use it exclusively. Your motor will be cleaner. Quieter. Faster.

ROOSEVELT SWEEP SEEN IN MIDWEST

National Committeemen
See Triumphs in Ohio and Minnesota.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 21.—(P)—National committeemen from Ohio and Minnesota called upon Governor Roosevelt today voicing predictions that the democratic presidential nominee would reverse history and carry those states next November.

"Roosevelt will carry Minnesota by 100,000," said Joseph Wolf, of Staples, Minnesota has never been in the democratic column at a presidential election.

"Ohio! Absolutely," remarked W. A. Julian, of Cincinnati. "I'd say by 300,000. It looks so good I would almost underwrite it." Woodrow Wilson was the only democratic standard bearer to win Ohio, the home of republican presidents.

Wolf said Mr. Roosevelt's visit to St. Paul last April enhanced his position in the northwest. The national committeemen want him to include Minnesota in his campaign tours. Julian said he "still was working on

Tarheel Governor's Son Elopes With Society Girl

YORK, N. C., July 21.—(P)—James Webb Gardner, son of the governor of North Carolina, and Miss Iris Rollins, Mooreboro, N. C. society girl, were married here last night after eloping from Shelby, N. C.

The ceremony was performed by Judge E. Gettys Nunn, who has married couples from every part of the country. The couple left for Raleigh to notify the governor and spend several days in the executive mansion.

a plan to take the nominee to Ohio during one of his speaking trips."

Mr. Roosevelt spent the day at the executive mansion, receiving, in addition to Wolf and Julian, state legislative leaders and members of the unemployment relief commission with whom he discussed next winter's relief plans.

Spokesmen for both democratic and republican lawmakers believed that Mr. Roosevelt's visit to the state capital will not be necessary until after the November election.

When the state votes on the presidential issue it will determine whether to accept a legislative proposal for a bond issue of $500,000 to continue unemployment relief.

If the voters favor the bond issue the legislature may be summoned to change the law governing the amount of money each community will receive.

It was understood that Mayor Walker's plan to ouster Roosevelt would be sent to the capital next Saturday when the governor will be at his Hyde Park home. He intends motoring to his Hudson river estate tomorrow night.

The mayor's answer to Samuel Seabury's contention that he used his office for personal gain likely will be made public in New York when Albany advises it is on Mr. Roosevelt's desk.

The Roosevelt speaking campaign has been making time until Walker's case is out of the way.

of South Carolina, was due the credit of the capture of the DeGress battery, the starting and desperate event of July 22, 1864. Moran gave the accounts of Colonel Lovick P. Thomas and others in defense of the claims of the 42nd Georgia to its laurels, and pointed out that the claim of Manigault's brigade was met and fully refuted.

Reports of the battle, according to Colonel Thomas, demonstrated "the fact that it was a most hotly contested engagement, and one to which the American soldier can point with pride as an evidence of our common glory and valor." Moran said that the story of the gallant charge of the 42nd more than rivaled the charge of the 600 upon Ball's Bluff.

OPPRESSIVE HEAT CONTINUES TODAY

It also included one man who became dizzy because of the heat, fell off a pier and drowned in shallow water.

Unofficial listings of heat deaths in other cities have shown an average of about 15 a day. Wednesday the number jumped to 20 and today to more than 30.

Also on the side of tragedy was an epidemic of hog cholera, which threatened parts of Nebraska and which became more widespread because of the heat. Crops were beginning to wither. In Iowa, the heat caused grasshoppers to hatch by the millions.

On the humorous side was the order in Joliet transferring all "fat" policemen from day duty to night work. All men weighing over 200 were included.

Arizona House 'Dated' in 790 A. D. Robs Columbus of 1492 Laurels

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(P)—Columbus will be "robbed" of his laurels, for 1492 no longer is the "earliest date" in American history. Future school boys can start with 790 A. D.

The "dated" history of North America was pushed back to the year 790 today with announcement by the Smithsonian Institution that a house identified as having been built that year, has been found by an archaeological expedition near the Puerco river in eastern Arizona.

This "dated" house, built when Charlemagne was growing up to be emperor of the Holy Roman empire and when the Danes were invading England, will take a lot of guesswork out of America's ancient history. It reveals as definitely as a history book when its builders, the early Pueblo Indians, were flourishing in the southwest.

The three great rings in the roof timbers made it possible to "date" the house as surely as though "790 A. D." had been carved on the cornerstone, said Dr. Frank H. H. Roberts Jr., leader of the expedition.

loans is expected immediately to take care of such situations as that in Chicago, where school teachers, firemen and policemen have not drawn salaries for long periods; in Pennsylvania, where suffering is reported intense and relief funds and sources of relief funds are exhausted; and in other states where the situation is reported serious although not so acute.

Signing of the bill made law of a measure which for months tangled congress and the president in a feud which at times was bitter. The bill was written and rewritten, but it emerged finally in a form acceptable to Mr. Hoover.

MRS. BARNEY IS FINED $175 ON GUN CHARGE

LONDON, July 21.—(P)—Mrs. Elvira Dolores Barney, beautiful former actress who was acquitted two weeks ago of a charge of murder, was brought into court again today and fined 50 pounds sterling (about $175) and about $25 costs for possessing a revolver without a license.

She pleaded guilty to the charge. Thomas William Scott, Stephen, London man-about-town, was shot in her apartment during a struggle for possession of the revolver in question, she testified at her murder trial.

"Yankee" Again Extends Tribute to Dixie Grave

WINCHESTER, Va., July 21.—(P)—The aged Union veteran, now 87, was here again today to lay a wreath on the graves of Thomas Reardon and his daughter, Honora, who picked up the "Yankee" up off the battlefield at White Post and nursed him back to health. He was with Sheridan's troops in the bloody battles with Stonewall Jackson's men.

For many years the Pennsylvanian made his trips to see again the friends of the sixties. After their death he continued to come and he says he will continue as long as he is physically able.

BANK IN LOUISIANA IS ROBBED OF $6,000

20 HOODLUM LEADERS ARRESTED IN CAROLINA

HIGH POINT, N. C., July 21.—(P)—Twenty leaders of hoodlum "wrecking crews" which closed down virtually every manufacturing plant in five North Carolina towns Tuesday, were in jail tonight while the High Point area slowly recovered from one of the strangest strikes on record.

Prisons at Greensboro and Winston-Salem fairly bulged with some of the ringleaders in the nearest approach to an industrial revolt North Carolina has ever experienced.

While a bona fide strike of 8,000 hosiery workers was at its height, the "wrecking crews," composed mainly of unemployed men, but with a sprinkling of strikers, marched from mill to mill, shutting off the power and forcing the shutdown of more than 100 plants and the temporary idleness of between 5,000 and 10,000 operatives.

There was no complaint from mill owners. When the "wrecking crews" arrived and shut off the power, the workers in the various plants rolled down their sleeves, put on their coats and left their posts rather than risk violence at the hands of the invaders.

Warrants charging inciting to riot were issued yesterday and late last night the round-up began. Twenty men were in jail by dawn and police said they were looking for that many more.

Meanwhile, with the leaders of the "wrecking crews" in jail, 3,000 work-

ATLANTA, GA., JULY 22, 1932.

UNREASONABLE DISCRIMINATION

Striking evidence of the inequality of treatment extended by the state to the transportation companies operating within its boundaries is presented in the pauper's affidavit filed by a company operating a fleet of buses between Atlanta and Columbus in making an appeal from a judgment found against it.

Some weeks ago one of the buses of this company forced a passenger car off the road, resulting in the serious injury of one of its women occupants. Suit was instituted in the Meriwether county courts and $16,000 granted by the jury.

The law requires that in appealing such a judgment a bond must be secured, but the bus company, offering no protection for the injured for which it was responsible, evades the bond responsibility by an affidavit setting forth that it is financially unable to take out such bond protection.

This is presented in the picture of a company, using the public highways of the state, at constant risk to other users of the roads because of the size of its equipment, being permitted to operate without semblance of protection to those whose persons or property it may damage.

The picture presented by the state's attitude towards the rail transportation lines is vastly different. They are forced to establish every safeguard for the protection of the public and there is no escape from payment for any judgment against them.

Failure to require bus companies to offer full protection to the public is only one of the many inequalities and discriminations of state control of its transportation facilities.

No business, whatever its character, could successfully combat competition operating under such discriminating conditions.

Certainly no transportation company should be permitted to operate in Georgia without full protection for its passengers and the public.

OLD TREATIES COME TO LIGHT.

Provisions in 52 obsolete treaties, some of them three-quarters of a century old, which, within the last few days, have been returned to the state department by the senate, are interesting in the light of development during the years since those international agreements were suggested.

The treaties, most of which have lain forgotten, for many years in the archives of the senate, have been returned to the state department at the request of the department, the first such request since one made in 1876 by Secretary of State Hamilton Fish to Senator Simon Cameron, then chairman of the committee on foreign relations.

They include two protocols and relate to a varied range of subjects, chiefly commercial, but some pertain to such important matters as the annexation of Hawaii, loans and compensations to Mexico, water boundaries with Great Britain, ship canal with Colombia, naval stations with Samoa and the Virgin Islands and international law.

Altogether the treaties contained suggested agreements in our relations with 14 countries—Mexico, Denmark, Hawaii, Great Britain, Colombia, Dominican republic, Samoa, Argentina, France, Nicaragua, Ecuador, Cuba, Wurtemberg and Hesse. Since all international treaties must be ratified by the senate none of those now returned to the state department became operative.

The oldest of the treaties are dated just before and during the first years of the War Between the States and deal with commercial regulations, loans and compensation.

The suggested business relations are now entirely out of line with present conditions and the loans and compensation have long since been adjusted.

It is the intention of the state department to make a careful study of the treaties in the light of world developments since they were first submitted to the senate. It is thought that it will be shown that most of them would have been valueless, or even detrimental, but undoubtedly influence in the development of our international relations. Many of the objectives sought in the latter class, however, have been obtained through substituting treaties, such as those seeking the annexation of Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

OUR OVERFLOWING JAILS.

According to the report of the Georgia department of public welfare, the commitments to county jails during 1931 recorded an increase of 7 per cent over 1930—the commitments representing a total of 19 out of every 1,000 of population in the state.

Of the total of 55,763 commitments, 4,204 were children, an increase of 49 per cent over the preceding year.

A still more significant increase is that in white prisoners. While both white and negro groups showed a gain, the increase in whites was 10 per cent against a 5 per cent growth in the negro population of our jails.

Only a few years ago there were about two negroes in jail in the state to one white person, but this ratio has steadily changed until now the two groups are practically equal, with the white population exceeding that of the negroes almost two to one.

The comparative figures of arrests in 1930 and 1931 announced by the welfare department are as follows:

White men	21,487	20,981
White women	1,854	1,810
Negro men	24,172	24,172
Negro women	3,803	3,600
Negro girls	120	120
Total white	23,341	22,891
Total negro	28,720	30,078
Total prisoners	52,061	52,969

With the population, as shown by the last census, standing practically still during the decade from 1920 to 1930; the constantly increasing annual arrests reveal a growing disrespect for law which constitutes one of the most serious problems now facing the state.

It is accentuated by the more rapid growth in crime among the whites than among the negroes. As a rule, the offenses against the law committed by negroes are of a minor nature, while infractions by whites are generally more serious.

Jails in both city and rural counties, which formerly were seldom taxed to capacity, are now filled to overflowing. The court dockets are in most cases many months behind and the chain gangs of the state are two and three times as large as they were a decade or two ago.

The increase in crime would not be so alarming were it confined to the years of economic depression, because then it could be attributed largely to idleness and necessity. But the fact that the increase during the past three years is little larger than those of preceding years shows that it is caused by moral and not economic changes.

Long drawn-out delays in court procedure, lack of proper vigilance on the part of peace officers and many other reasons are ascribed for the disturbing and steady increase in crime.

Whether the cause be one, or all, of these reasons, the situation faced by the state is one of such gravity that we can with safety no longer ignore its threat to the peace and prosperity of the state.

The head of one of the country's leading airways systems is quoted as being so enthusiastic over the future of air transportation that it might be said he was all up in the air about it.

Aimee, with her what-a-lover Hutton, and Ma Kennedy with her what-a-man Hudson, are at least together in the matter of allegedly undesirable husbands.

Now it is claimed that Presidential Candidate Upshaw—sometimes of "Earnest Willie" cognomen—will get 12,000,000 women's votes—but the how and the where is not explained.

The move of the motor carriers to halt the seizure of their trucks, even if overloaded, is likely to meet with an unexpected reception by taxpayers who are tired of seeing their highways destroyed.

And they say that Senator Hattie Caraway, of Arkansas, pitched into her opponents in her opening speech at Hot Springs in a way entirely befitting with the weather and the name of the town.

Those treasury raids charged to the G. O. P. are "ridiculed" by the republicans—but not disproven.

The thief who got away with two hens and dropped a $10 bill in making his getaway is probably seriously pondering whether the evil of his ways is worth while after all.

The most illuminating 1932 headline reads: "Machine guns slay Chicago teamsters at bar." Which will no doubt make interesting reading to the Volsteadian days when sanity returns to the country in the future.

Moscow Subway.

Three famous British engineers connected with the London Metropolitan railway are in Moscow this morning to co-operate with soviet engineers on the building of a subterranean railway system for the union capital. Work has actually been started on one section of the system. Other sections offer great technical difficulties on account of the geological formation of the substrata.

There was also talk of a subway in Leningrad, but there conditions of the substratum are such as to make it impossible. Peter built his city in a swampy region and digging is impossible there. In Moscow it is different; much rock subsoil, but also myriads of underground streams and artesian wells. No great feat of engineering than water.

Yet the work has started and the entire system is to be completed by 1937. Goodness knows both Moscow and Leningrad need to improve their transportation system. Today it is hopelessly inadequate and with masses of newcomers flocking in it becomes every day more impossible. Leningrad should also plan to work out an elevated railway system.

Manchurian Situation.

The Manchurian situation is still grave and that is also the view taken by the authorities and the newspapers in Moscow. Yet, somehow, the Manchurian situation is still grave and that is also the view taken by the authorities and the newspapers in Moscow. Yet, somehow, the Manchurian situation is still grave and that is also the view taken by the authorities and the newspapers in Moscow.

Considerable soviet troops have been massing in the far east to head off a Japanese invasion should it have come to that. Japan seems to be coming to her senses. Her internal situation is so serious that she cannot afford to engage in a military enterprise. One never knows how a war ends, no matter how enthusiastically it is started. This much is certain: Japan hesitates for the moment.

It remains to be seen what future course of action she plans in Manchuria. For that the tension has been altogether eliminated. The far east is still like a volcano, apt to go into an eruption any moment.

Georgia Heroes Of World War

By Sergeant L. E. Jackel (All Rights Reserved.)

JOHN K. MCGRAW, first sergeant, United States marine corps, second division, American expeditionary force, awarded the Navy Cross for extraordinary heroism and exceptional meritorious and distinguished service in the line of his profession, and appears in the Georgia Heroes of World War.

On October 28, 1918, there had been received at the aerodrome of Squadron C, first aviation force in France, 1,500 live bombs in individual crates. The aerodrome was piloted by Lieutenant Ralph Talbot, crashed into this pile of live bombs, caught fire and was completely burned. The fire spread to the crates of bombs and an explosion was imminent.

Sergeant McGraw pressed the nearest men into service and dragged the burning crates of bombs off the pile until the fire was extinguished. Sergeant McGraw's presence of mind and courage undoubtedly prevented a serious explosion which would unquestionably have resulted in the destruction of the entire aerodrome and the loss of many lives.

It appears that the aerodrome is believed that his heroic action should be recognized by the conferring of this Navy Cross.

Residence at enlistment, Lone Pine, Georgia.

$40,000 Cloth Cargo

Hi-Jacked in Gotham

NEW YORK, July 21.—(AP)—Two Burlington, N. C., truckmen were kidnapped about 4 a. m. today from the front of 410 Washington street by two robbers who spoke with a southern accent and whose companions drove away with the victims' truck and trailer containing unfinished articles of silk valued at $40,000.

The truckmen's captors drove up town and across the Queensboro bridge, finally releasing the men in 65th street, Queens. The two men made their way to a police station and reported the kidnapping and robbery.

The fact that the kidnappers of the truckmen spoke with a southern accent led detectives to the theory that the robbers might have followed the truck to the city from the Washington area, awaiting an opportunity to steal it.

HOLLYWOOD IN PERSON

BY MOLLIE MERRICK.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., July 21.—Mary Pickford, on her way east by plane, assures Hollywood that she will make two pictures by the first of next year. One, an original by Frances Marion, is already well under way, and Miss Pickford hopes to find a suitable story for her other film while she is in New York.

The Countess Dentic De Frasco will accompany Mary Pickford during her New York visit, and Douglas Fairbanks and Johnny Mack Brown will fly with them as far as Albuquerque, N. M.

You may guess what Doug Fairbanks is looking for in New Mexico. He wants to find an old-fashioned frontier saloon—building, bar and all—and have it erected on his estate in Beverly Hills.

Ethel Barrymore, about ready to begin work on "Ragman," appeared her ankle. This is bad luck, as Miss Barrymore has to finish her picture and be east to begin a play within a remarkably short time.

Hollywood is waiting to see just what George Bancroft will do now that he has left Paramount and plans to make a picture in association with Edward Small, the head of Reliance Pictures.

Bancroft's idea (and it's a good one), is that a star should make about four pictures during the year and have those few as near to perfect as possible.

Health Talks

HEAT, COLD OR WHAT HAVE YOU.
Program of New York County Medical Society session in academy of medicine April 25: Symposium on the Common Cold.

1. Etiological Factors (a) Filterable viruses; (b) Bacteria.

2. Its Relation to Rheumatic Fever.

3. Its Relation to the Heart and Blood Vessels.

4. Its Relation to Allergic Manifestations.

5. Its Relation to Involvement of the Larynx, Sinuses and Ears.

Discussion.
What torture it must have been to the mere members, if any present, to listen to the specialists sounding off! A specialist is never so fluent as when he gets a free and unlimited opportunity to hold forth on a subject.

Notice how gracefully the program of the symposium hurdles the introductory part which should logically open any such symposium. The subject followed the program of the symposium. The subject followed the program of the symposium. The subject followed the program of the symposium.

From the title of the contribution of No. 2 doctor and all those who followed him, it would seem that they had a clue to the identity of the common cold. That all called the common cold "it." That may be a better name than the "c."

I maintain there is no such ailment as a "cold" or "the common cold." I believe nearly a score of known diseases are unnecessarily spread through the community by the convenience of those alleged health authorities who persist in teaching that there is such a thing as a "cold" or "the common cold." I propose that the vague and indefinite term "cold" be eliminated from all professional literature and that the word "cold" be used to indicate the common respiratory infection which is most frequently dubbed "cold" in their early stage.

The word "cold" is a term of convenience, coined from the initial letters of the two cumbersome phrases "Common Respiratory Infection." This word is so commonly used that it is, in fact, a common term.

"Cold" can possibly convey to an intelligent mind, and besides it carries a wholesome acknowledgment of your trouble, whichever species of cold you are suffering from. It is, in fact, a term of convenience, coined from the initial letters of the two cumbersome phrases "Common Respiratory Infection." This word is so commonly used that it is, in fact, a common term.

SINCLAIR AGAIN WINS NAVY OIL CONTRACT!

1,600,000 Gallons of Sinclair products to be used by U. S. Battleships, Destroyers, Submarines, Navy Aircraft, Army Tanks, etc.

THE United States Government has awarded to the Sinclair Refining Company the major part of the contract for supplying lubricants to the Navy and other Government Departments during the fiscal year 1932-33.

The basis of the award was the lowest service cost per gallon as determined by competitive tests in the Government testing laboratories at Annapolis, Maryland.

Proposals were received from various companies and both price and quality were duly considered in making the formal award. The quality of Sinclair lubricants received due consideration. Under the terms of the contract the United States Government will use more than 1,600,000 gallons of Sinclair lubricants during the coming fiscal year. This is the second time in succession that Sinclair has won the major part of this contract.

The award includes all of the lubricating oils to be used by United States battleships, destroyers, submarines, naval aircraft throughout the entire Navy and all Navy equipment at Atlantic ports. It also includes other Government requirements including those of the Army's fighting tanks, artillery tractors, trucks, etc., in 33 States.

It's the detail in the collar and sleeves that dates a fur coat definitely a 1932 model.

Novel features are concentrated above the waistline, giving a "top-heavy" look that is new and smart this year.

In general, the entire coat should look less fitted and more casual than last year. Sleeves are bigger. Collars are smaller when closed and many yokes effects are being used.

These details are featured in the sketches at the left. When buying your fur coat, this Fall be sure you do not overlook any one of the important style notes.

FRIENDLY COUNSEL

BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

A man may rest his feet on his footstool without being contented. He may worship his queen-wife and still be restless under the restraint the worship imposes. He may throw the bright colors of his personality against his background wife and at the same time feel a bit contemptuous of her. He may defer to his business manager wife and be resentful of her superior ability. He may look in the magnifying mirror of his wife's eyes and forget, momentarily, that he is a small man while he despises her for being devoted. He may enjoy the comforts that his servile wife secures to him and dislike her for her servile attitude. He may hold up his jewel wife and admire her hard glitter while he mourns her coldness. He may cozen his kitten wife with a condescending affection yet remain lonely. He may accept his watchdog wife with a grim resignation, hating her for watching him. He may fly to his refuge wife when in trouble and when out of trouble straightway forget her.

But there is one wife that her husband despises, never resents, never forgets, it is the wife that is friend and companion. The wife with whom he shares all his perplexing problems and all his pleasant experiences. These two have everything in common, common tastes, common aims and a common approach to these. Such a marriage is instinct with all the elements that go to make up a truly happy life. It is only in such a marriage that the man is reasonably safe from the temptation of other women. Mutual confidence stops up all the cracks and crevasses through which love often makes its escape. No matter how far short a woman may fall of realizing her ambition to be a good wife, invariably, the thing she desires most is to have the personal relation between her and her husband right. She may have other ambitions in connection with her marriage but failing in that first and foremost one, success in any other realm of her life is soured!

She may desire a nice home over which to preside, business success for her husband, social success for herself and her children, advantages of every sort for her family. But mark you this, these things are secondary in the woman's mind and if she cannot know past doubt that the relation between her and her husband is a perfect one, she is not a contented woman.

She knows that in every man's breast, there is the instinctively longing for the complementary, supplementary male, an instinct which leads him to look for the thing he lacks, a thing for which, unconsciously, perhaps, he hunts and tracks and meets strangers with a questioning eye. She knows, too, that the instinct must be satisfied. He must have always a companion and friend to whom he may go when in need. He must be able to tap sympathy and understanding, if he is to be contented.

The best marriage doesn't guarantee that the man and woman shall spend their lives in a bed of roses. The best marriage doesn't absolve them from the caring cares that come with maturity, nor relieve them of the heavy loads of responsibility that all couples must carry. It does guarantee an even division of the loads. It does guarantee that there will be a fifty-fifty division of all joys and sorrows.

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

HIS HEALTH IMPROVED 40%

After Use of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

If you are constipated, read this letter which Mr. Murray had attested by Notary Public:

"Two months ago I commenced using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN to relieve constipation. I am in better health today than I have been in years, due to the use of your wonderful Bran. My bowels move regularly, and my general health has improved 40%."—George A. Murray, 288 K Street, South Boston, Mass.

Laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN brings two things needed to correct common constipation: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines; Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also furnishes iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is similar to that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently it clears the intestines of wastes.

How much better to use ALL-BRAN than to abuse your system with pills and drugs—often harmful.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will overcome most types of constipation in serious cases, with every meal. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Use as a cereal with milk or cream, or in cooking. At all grocers in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

NEW NOURISHMENT QUICK

NO TAX ON THE "TUMMY" AT ALL

Just physical tornadoes! That's what children are. Never still; never relaxed 'til the last ounce of energy is gone. Then sudden, sheer exhaustion... that weak, wobbly, faint feeling that prompts the wail for food. Strict mothers make 'em wait 'til meal-time, contrary to nature's law. Others indulge 'em with solid sweets which may bring on digestive upsets. Wise mothers give Dr. Pepper at 10, 2 and 4 o'clock...

Eminent authorities recommend a small ration of sugar for children at mid-meal hours. In liquid (invert) form, as they get it in Dr. Pepper, it is practically predigested and goes right into the blood. The dilution of pure water (5 1/2 to 1) makes excess impossible. The fruit juice and blended flavors make it a treat that children love. Truly, here's one confection without an objection. And it builds good health to boot.

EMORY AND TECH WILL HOLD DEBATE ON REPEAL PLANK

The prohibition repeal plank of the democratic party will be the subject of the first summer school debate between Tech and Emory during the first week in August, it was announced Thursday by Taylor Purdon, manager for Emory.

Under the plan of summer school debating originated by Purdon, two teams from Emory will debate two teams from Tech on the same night, one debate at Emory and the other at Tech. Each team will have two members.

The subject, "We Accept the Democratic Party's Stand Against the Eighteenth Amendment," is expected to arouse intense interest in the debates, due to the nearness of the presidential election. At Emory, the Emory team will take the affirmative and the Tech team the negative. Positions will be reversed at Tech, with the Tech team on the affirmative and the Emory team on the negative side.

Trials for the debates are now under way at both schools. Professor E. H. Folk is manager for Tech.

BY ELY CULBERTSON,
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

Defensive Card Counting

In a recent article, I discussed the value to the Declarer of obtaining an accurate count of the distribution of suits adversely held. The defending players may also turn this knowledge to their advantage and sometimes defeat contracts that seem certain of success, if they will but pause in the play long enough to reason from the known to the unknown, and determine the distribution of suits in the various hands. As a starting point, every player has available the information disclosed by the Opening lead, the cards in his own hand and those exposed in the Dummy. Each subsequent play reduces the element of the unknown, and thus makes the reasoning more scientific and more exact.

An example of how a game contract in no-trump was defeated by accurate card count on the part of one of the defending players is given below:

The above headlines appeared in a New York newspaper of April 4 in connection with a divorce trial that has attracted wide attention.

She was a beautiful woman," one witness testified, "but she got fat and was not attractive any more."

And gains in energy and activity? Why, not do what thousands of women have done to get rid of pounds of unwanted fat? Take one-half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast and keep it up for 30 days. You can help the action of Kruschen by cutting down on pastry and fatty meats and getting light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar. Then weigh yourself and see how many pounds you have lost.

It's the safe way to get fat comes first and remember this—if you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back—no question.

Georgia Women To Organize For Gov. Roosevelt Today

United Front for National Ticket Planned. Clubs Will Be Formed All Over State.

More than 150 women democrats will gather at 3 o'clock this afternoon to fire the opening salvo in a barrage which will result in complete occupancy of the Georgia "front" by the forces representing the Roosevelt-Garner ticket for the presidency. The meeting will be held in the convention hall of the Piedmont hotel and all women voters in Fulton county will be invited by Mrs. Edgar Alexander, democratic national committeewoman, who called the gathering.

Later, Mrs. Alexander said, clubs will be organized in several counties in Georgia to promote the candidacy of democracy's choice in the White House. On Saturday, June 30, Mrs. Alexander and a group of Fulton voters will organize the Stevens county women's democratic club in Toccoa. Other counties will be organized as fast as the work will permit.

The meeting today in Atlanta is expected to reveal unprecedented enthusiasm, Mrs. Alexander said, adding that women who voted the republican ticket in 1928 are coming back "into the fold in large numbers."

Speakers invited for today include Clark Howell, editor of The Constitution, and Senator John S. Cohen. Mrs. Alexander will preside and extemporaneous speakers will be invited to take the floor.

During the meeting the Atlanta firemen's band will play the "Forward Franklin D. Roosevelt March," of which Thomas Altobelli, director of the band, is composer. Efforts are being made to secure the adoption of the song as the battle hymn of the democrats and if such results, the meeting today will be the first organized democratic club to hear the music.

The meeting today is merely for the purpose of organization, Mrs. Alexander said. As soon as officers are elected she will surrender the chair to the new president.

Mrs. Alexander stressed that "all women interested in the candidacy of Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Garner are invited to attend."

The hall was decorated with cut flowers by the decorating committee, Mrs. Edna Bentley and Miss Bertha Hood. The colored lights, symbols of the different stations, were used for the first time. The birthday cake, adorned by an Eastern Star was the work of Mrs. Carrie Roberts, and occupied an important place in front of the worthy matron's station. Many prominent guests were present. BABES ON BROADWAY
by JANE DIXON

Tom Brooks was 18 when his father and mother were killed in an automobile accident at Centerville, her home town. She had intended to study art but her capital had dwindled to $12 before she got to New York. Her frugality in telling women what they could not wear soon brought her dismissal on the same day that Leslie (Lee) Moran, a model, was discharged. Lee had no money and Tony shared her third-floor back room at Mrs. Higgins' with her. Before Tony got a job at an art gallery, Lee became a taxi dancer at El Tango, where she met Adam Leonard, whom she called Uncle Len. He was a kindly looking man between 50 and 60. Tom Stewart, a young engineer in love with Lee, missed her at Mrs. Higgins' Tony fell in love with him at once and tried to bring him to her. Lee had insisted that Tony go out for an evening with Leonard and an out-of-town friend, Donald Kemp. As they were leaving a night club, Leonard's wife saw them and made a scene. Leonard had been unhappily married and Kemp, a lawyer, arranged for Mrs. Leonard to get a divorce. Lee astonished Tony later, assuming that she was going to pose as the correspondent and expected to receive $5,000. She moved to an apartment. Mr. Montieu, a client of Kemp's, gave Tony a chance at dress designing in his studio and she attended art school at night. Tony finally confessed her love of Tom Lee. Shortly after that Tony found Tom waiting for her at Mrs. Higgins'. I've got to tell you about Lee's life herself, he said. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

INSALLMENT XIX.

"You're come for Lee," she said. "I'm sorry, but I can't produce her. I've been at class at the Art League. Afterward I took a long walk, with Donald Kemp. We've only just returned. Stupid of her, explaining where she'd been. As if it mattered. She had to say something. Tom was watching her. His eyes never left her face. Searched it out in the darkness. Her senses were going to swim again. She could feel that sudden rush of emotion rising in her throat, a smother of desire, a tingling ecstasy.

"I came to find you, Tony. I had to find you, tonight. Tomorrow might be too late. I'm leaving on an early train. Job in the southwest—New Mexico. I don't know how long I'll be gone. Tony, I've got to tell you this. I'm leaving on an early train. He was at a loss for a beginning.

"You want me to look after Lee," Tony volunteered. Emotion receded. Desire numbed. Her words were sharp pebbles dropped on a pavement. "You want me to look after Lee."

The siren shrieked again, closer. Tom opened the door at the top of the chipped stone stoop, thrust Tony inside. The latch clicked behind her. She could hear his scuffling feet down the steps. Why hadn't he remained inside the door, with her? She must get to her room unseen. If they found Tom she would go out into the street again, take her place beside him. The window, a tiny one in the front hall. It faced the street. Off with hat and coat first. If she met anyone in the hall they would think she had been attracted from her room by the siren.

Up the street lights were flashing, figures moving. Windows glowed yellow, framing leaning half-bodies. Other sirens had taken up the clamor. Tony scanned the figures in the circle of flashing lights intently. Tom was not one of them.

She fled to her room, closed and bolted the door. She was gasping for breath. Terror drove the blood in icy rivulets down her face. A man, dead. Sprawled on the cold stone while Tom murmured passionate endearments against her lips, living, burning words that sung of life and of love.

Tom loved her. He had told her so—not in words—there hadn't been time for words—there hadn't been time for words. She had seen him. She went to the mirror. Strange she couldn't see where Tom's lips had pressed her face, tenderly, passionately. Her lips trembled up a smile at the corner where his lips had lingered. The dear lean brownness of him.

Tony said aloud to lead conviction to her thoughts:

"Lee will have to know. Tom will tell her the truth. She'll hate me. I am sorry for that, but there is no other way. It would be wrong, wretchedly wrong to sacrifice love to her whim. She does not love Tom. She is using him. He's an anchor in her windward in case her other plans fail. She would spoil his life and mine with her selfishness. He belongs to me, just as I belong to him, always have belonged to him, since my creation. Tomorrow Tom will tell her. . . . tomorrow. No, today. She would not see him again for weeks, months maybe. He couldn't go, leave her like this. She must find out. Where? In the city? No, she would have to

The new Clarion, Mr. Holgerson pointed out, possesses all the latest improvements in radio design, and is backed by years of engineering and scientific experimenting to give to the home a more perfect instrument.

The various models range from the small table model of six tubes to the larger and more elaborate models of 12 tubes. Various combination long and short wave sets are also provided. Automatic volume control, deodec detector, tone control, full-wave dial and twin speakers on the larger models are some of the outstanding features. The sets are all of the super-heterodyne type, employing the latest two and one-half volt tubes.

NAME IS HEAVY.

Stella Walsh, the little Pole from Cleveland, will run for the Polish Olympic team under her real name which is Stanislaw Walasiewicz.

The Polish girl was one of the unemployed and she offered to enlist her fleet legs in the aid of the country which would give her a job of work to do at living wages. The Polish consulate came through with the best offer.

While the A. A. U. gnashed its molars and tried to see if it couldn't do something about it.

THE SWISS OLYMPIC TEAM.

If reports be true it seems that every nation has its badge wearers in the Olympic games. Reports from Los Angeles are that the Swiss team of four athletes was accompanied to these shores of freedom by six officials.

All of whom will wear badges, carry the Swiss flag and march in the parade.
"I miss my Swiss, my Swiss miss me."

BACK TO NORMALCY.

Somehow the best story of the recent state golf tournament didn't come to light until yesterday. The last match had driven off the first tee and gone on into the valleys and dells beyond.

Colonel Jim Allen came to the first tee with his four-some. They arranged the "game" and the first man prepared to tee off.

"The old course," said Colonel Allen, "may now begin to feel natural again. No one is going to do anything to it."

MAX SCHMELING—SPORTSMAN.

Max Schmeling, former world's heavyweight champion, was in Germany when the Golden Gloves amateur boxing team of that country left for the United States to engage the Chicago team—American amateur champions.

Schmeling told them not to be afraid of the decisions in the United States—that the amateur outfits weren't connected with the Garden.

The German team has been developed largely since the World War. Before that the Kaiser had forbidden boxing in any city—except Hamburg—because he once saw a boxing match and thought it brutal. (Yet he was perfectly willing to go to war which isn't brutal at all, of course). He must not have cared what happened to Hamburg's good citizens.

SCOREBOARD FOR BOXING.

A Mr. Charles Amory, of New York, has perfected an electric scoreboard which shows the progress of rounds during a prize fight. During the minute rest between rounds the judges and referee hand in their decisions. It is then flashed on the board.

This is entirely too sensible and too practical to be put into use. There is usually too much political phlegm in a heavyweight title bout to permit any official, round by round record.

Missouri has gone ahead with the best system. The referee runs the fight. The judges do not vote. If the referee isn't able to judge the fight then he has no business in there. And Missouri takes the stand that most judges and most boxing commissions are, for some unknown reason, composed of politicians. Who should not be permitted to vote on a fight.

IN THE DICTIONARY.

Joe Engel, owner of the Chattanooga baseball club, was peering around in the dictionary yesterday seeking the word gratitute.

He is the only owner who has not cut salaries and the only one giving his players special comforts, concessions and bonuses.

About a third of the squad rewards him by going on a jam-boree which landed two in jail. The Chattanooga pennant chance has been given a black eye. And once more the ball player is thrust before the public as a roughneck brawler.

DON'T YOU DETEST—

The two fat ladies who haven't seen each other for weeks and who stand in the middle of the sidewalk and talk and talk and talk when they meet up town?

Chattanooga Players Fined for Disturbance

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 21.—(AP)—Members of the Chattanooga club of the Southern Baseball Association, who went on a rampage Wednesday afternoon, paid the piper today on two counts. Harley Boss, first baseman; Fred Jilek, utility catcher; Frank Randall, Leon Pettitt and Lynn Griffith, pitchers, were each fined $200 by President Joe Engel, while Jilek and Boss were assessed $25 and costs in police court for being drunk and disorderly.

Engel went on the warpath himself and laid down stringent rules for his players, including the revocation of all passes given single men on the team. Another rule is that all of the players must be in their rooms at midnight, under penalty of $50 fine. Engel said that the players were not so much to blame as the people who got them into drunken parties.

The offending players raised a rumpus on the street and in a local hotel, abusing truck farmers and giving the police trouble in making the arrests. However, they were subdued by two hard-boiled city detectives who happened to be passing the scene of the disturbance. Boss and Jilek made a public apology when arraigned in court.

REESE, SIMPSON, MOONEY, COURTS SEMI-FINALS

Singles and Doubles Matches Slated Today on Tech Courts.

By Roy White.

Billy Reese, the defending champion, plays Jack Simpson and Jack Mooney meets Malon Courts, runner-up last year, in the semi-finals of the tennis tournament at 7:30 o'clock this afternoon on the Georgia Tech courts.

Immediately following the singles, all doung at the end and the semi-final round will be completed. All the semi-finalists in the singles won out in straight sets Thursday afternoon with the exception of Jack Simpson, who was forced into the third set to win from Harry Gault, a former city champion. The scores of the Simpson-Gault match were 7-5, 2-6, 6-3.

HARD MATCH.

Reese, after winning the first set, 6-0, had a tough match and close call with Britt Knox, a veteran champion stroke artist, but won out, 7-5, to enter the semi-finals. Knox was going strong at the end and appeared to be on the road to victory when Reese settled down to some excellent placing and hard-driving forehand game. Simpson and Gault played the longest match of the afternoon and came back in the deciding set to win, 7-5, 2-6, 6-3. Both players were strong with the back-court drives, but failed to take advantage of the many opportunities to smash the ball when near the net.

Mooney, a seeded player, had little trouble in defeating Paul Metz, a member of the Tech tennis team. Metz exhibited a tough defense but was outplayed by Mooney, who played a close and interesting match all the way. Their volleying was well worth the while and drew many applause from the large gallery.

FANS DIVIDED.

The spectators were very much divided in watching Thursday's play. Of course Reese, the defending champion, drew the largest crowd, but each of the other quarter-final matches were witnessed by hundreds of spectators, who cheered every good shot.

In the doubles Thursday, Reese and Courts won by default over Merritt and Manley and entered the quarter-finals with a 6-1, 6-2 victory over Bracewell and Lindsey.

Galt and Bozin defeated Rice and Aiken, 6-3, 6-5, in straight sets; Maynard and West eliminated Hopkins and Corrigan, 6-0, 6-0, while Jennings and Crawford found trouble in winning from French and Jackson, 5-7, 9-7, 7-5.

The Jennings-Crawford and French-Jackson match was the last one of the tournament to be decided in three sets in which every set went into an extra period.

Hoover Extends Season for Ducks
WASHINGTON, July 21.—(AP)—The open season for hunting wild ducks and geese has been extended from one to two months for the coming fall by President Hoover at the recommendation of Secretary Hyde.

The lengthened season, it was said at the department of agriculture, is made possible by improved hunting situation in which became serious for waterfowl following drought on their breeding grounds in 1931.

FLORIDA STARS FEATURE MEET

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 21.—(UP)—Eastern players were eliminated completely today during the first and second rounds of match play in the national public links golf championship over the Shawnee Club course.

The eight survivors represent the west, middle west and south. Medalist Joe Nichols, of Long Beach, Cal., breezed through his first and second round matches, eliminating Albert Wilkins, of Brooklyn, in the morning, and Karl Karch, Brooklyn, by the same 5-and-4 score.

Pete Miller, Chicago; Oliver Sleppey, Long Beach, Cal.; and Albert Campbell, Seattle, the other favorites, crashed through but had difficulty in doing so.

Miller downed Mike Parco, of Buffalo, first, and followed by gaining the decision over Irving Goddard, Los Angeles, 1 up, on 20 holes.

Sleppey eliminated Ervin Schaber, Louisville, and Hank Foley, Chicago. It was Foley who stroked his way into the limelight this morning by defeating Charles Ferrara, of San Francisco, defending champion.

Campbell defeated Horace Lacey, Little Rock, Ark., in the morning and Robert Dale, Indianapolis, in the afternoon's 18 holes.

Jacksonville, Fla., provided the surprise of the tourney by placing two men in the third round, Curtis Bryan and R. L. Miller. These two and Ade Fordham, of St. Paul, Minn., are the "dark horses" of the tourney.

Talbot Boyer, of Portland, Ore., is the eighth survivor. He will assist Nichols, Sleppey and Campbell in trying to win the championship on the Pacific coast.

Here are the pairings for tomorrow's quarter-final round:
Fordham vs. Boyer; Nichols vs. Pete Miller Sleppey vs. R. L. Miller; Campbell vs. Bryan.

The quarter-final round will be played tomorrow morning, and the semi-final in the afternoon, and the final for 18 holes. The 36-hole final is scheduled for Saturday.

J. HALVERSTADT LOSES MATCH

ASHEVILLE, N. C., July 21.—(AP)—Defeat of Robert "Lefty" Bryan, of Port Worth, aces, and No. 1 Lenoir Wright, of Charlotte, featured the quarter-final play of the North Carolina open tennis championships at the Biltmore today.

The Queen City star won in three sets, 6-3, 2-6, 6-2.

Frankie Parker, top seeded player of New Orleans, found Joan McSherry, of Fort Worth, a tough opponent in the first set but swept through the second easily to win by scores of 8-6, 6-1.

Parker and Wright will meet in the upper bracket semi-finals.

Ted Burwell, of Charlotte, continued his fine work and triumphed over Jim Halverstadt, Atlanta, in rapid-fire order. Burwell looked exceptionally good in winning, 6-2, 6-4.

Dick Corving, of Asheville, and Karl Hodge, St. Louis, had a hard-fought first set, but the local player won out, 6-4, and then captured the prolonged second set by 7-5.

Burwell and Corving meet tomorrow in the lower bracket semi-finals.

Obie Rated High By Other 'Heavies'

Bearcat Obie, who meets Scorpion Willie Bush in a colored heavyweight championship at the auditorium Monday night, is very much avoided by the present-day prominent heavyweights, according to a letter from Promoter Roby received from Jess McMahon, Obie's eastern manager.

"I almost had Obie matched with 'Scorpion' Willie Bush, but he is a real tough one," writes McMahon. "When one day at the gym, without my knowledge, Obie boxed a couple of rounds with Hamas and gave the former a foot ache, he has a powerful left and is a speedy boxer."

Much interest is being manifested in the Sailor Born-Battling Maddox scrap which is the semi-final of the card. Born is a youngster that seems headed somewhere up the pugilistic ladder and Maddox, a veteran, who has never been stretched out for the full round, figures to stop the Sailor's winning streak. Maddox crowds his opponent at all times and this coupled with Born's slugging tactics is expected to furnish plenty of thrills.

Promoter Roby announces that he has lined up two of his preliminaries, they are: a local fighter, popular French fighter, who will battle Baiting Bozo in an eight-rounder, and Jim Jeffries, who clashes with Bill Bizzell in a six-rounder.

Two Twin Bills Set in Chicago

CHICAGO, July 21.—(AP)—For the first time in a modern major league history, two double-headers will be played in one city, Chicago, next Sunday.

The conflict originally was a single game in each park, Cleveland and the White Sox at Comiskey park and the Pittsburgh Pirates and Cubs at Wrigley field, but postponements forced them both into twin bills.

Mrs. Robert, Miss Carr To Fly to Olympics

Atlantans to Leave Sunday to Join Louisa Robert; Famous Instructor Praises Star.

By Jack Troy.
Mrs. L. W. (Chip) Robert and Miss Mary Ann Carr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Howell Sr., will take a plane of the American Airways from Candler field Sunday to join Mrs. Robert's daughter, Miss Louisa Robert, young Atlanta swimmer on the United States Olympic team at Los Angeles.

Mrs. Robert and Miss Carr will fly to Dallas Sunday. They will leave Dallas at 8:30 p. m. and arrive in Los Angeles Monday at 7 a. m., according to schedule. Misses Robert and Carr are close friends.

It will be the second long plane trip for Mrs. Robert, she having flown to Indianapolis, Ind., with Louisa for the national junior A. A. U. meet.

L. W. (Chip) Robert, father of Louisa, plans to leave Atlanta August 1 by plane to be on hand for the Olympics.

Aboard a special air-cooled Pullman, fitted up with a gymnasium, training room, etcetera, Miss Robert arrived in Los Angeles with the Olympic swimming team yesterday.

The women's Olympic team is stopping at the Chapman Park hotel, Los Angeles.

The Olympic swimming schedule is August 6 to 18, inclusive. Miss Robert is to swim in her first Olympics on the 9, 10 and 11.

The highest of praise has been heaped on the young Atlantian by a famous instructor. The Constitution learned yesterday.

Charles Norrell, father of Martha Norrell, famous swimmer, was in charge of Miss Robert's training during the week of the final trials at Jones Beach, L. I.

FOUR IS PAULTESS.
Instructor at the Atlantic Beach Club, Long Beach, L. I., Norrell supervised Miss Robert's daily workouts and was called to the team, last night, to take temporary swimmer, was in charge of Miss Robert's training during the week of the final trials at Jones Beach, L. I.

Norrell was of the opinion that when these faults are corrected international stardom will be his. He rates her second only to Eleanor Holm.

Observers believe that Miss Robert will win out over Joan McSherry, of Fort Worth, at Los Angeles. McSherry, famous swimmer, was in charge of Miss Robert's training during the week of the final trials at Jones Beach, L. I.

STARS AFRAID.
After Miss Robert's morning performance when she won her heat and beat Eleanor Holm's time three-fifths of a second, the New York stars were afraid of not qualifying for the team and put forth supreme efforts in the final.

The water at Jones Beach was miserably cold, at times dropping as low as 56 degrees, and caused Miss Robert, who was used to water temperatures ranging around 70 degrees, no small degree of discomfort, it has been learned.

She would come from the course with numb limbs and resort to rub-downs to restore normal circulation.

And this is a significant point, for conditions at Los Angeles will be more nearly like those here and at Sea Island, where Miss Robert has had most of her training. And it is not likely that she will again draw the outside lane.

There is every reason to believe that Louisa Robert will win points for the United States in the Olympics.

UNCANNY WINS IN GREAT DRIVE

NEW YORK, July 21.—(AP)—Two brilliant sons of Master Charlie—J. H. Louchheim's Uncanny and J. J. Robinson's Renaissance, staged one of the closest duels of the turf season to finish a neck apart as named in the Harrytown stakes over a mile and 70 yards at Empire City today.

The two colts, carrying equal weight of 114 pounds with Uncanny a 9-to-2 shot and Renaissance the favorite at 7 to 5, fought it out from flag to finish. Uncanny held a slight advantage from the start but Jockey Ryan was forced to give the Louchheim three-year-old one of his best rides to stave off the stretch drive of the Renaissance-Tony Pascum combination. William Woodward's Parade was five lengths away in third place.

Evergold, the improved player which finished third in the $70,000 classic, outfooted a high-class band of three-year-olds in the $25,000 Dundee stakes, run over a mile and one-eighth at Arlington Park.

Carrying the silks of the Shandon farm, owned by the Nash brothers, of Chicago, Evergold ran the distance over a slow track in 1:53.2-5 to defeat J. W. Martin's Darkhope, back among the also rans were Big Beau, Bubble Up, Sazerac Reboboth and Late.

Sweeping Light, a star of the two-year-old division last year, finally won his first race as a three-year-old, accounting for the mile fifth event in the colors of Herbert Pulitzer. Benefitted by 100 pounds and Hank Miller's ride, the former ace of Mrs. Graham Fair Vanderbilt's stable, showed the way to Pittsburgh, Ecstera, Valenciennes and Annemisse.

Billy Champ, which Eddie Houghton purchased from the Warrenton stable, romped off with the Point Pleasant purse at Latonia to qualify for the Aqueduct handicap, which will be run August 10 for the United States. Charles T. Fisher's Lady Dean was second and Royal Julian, making his first start since last November, third.

DON'T SAIL FOR U. S. SOON
LONDON, July 21.—(AP)—Wayne Don, British holder of the world's speedboat record of 119.81 miles an hour, will sail with his boat, Miss England, for the United States and the Harmsworth Trophy races at Detroit September 1-5.

Don says the coming test will be the hardest he has ever faced but he pointed out that his new boat was built especially for the race and not merely for straightaway speed runs as was the ill-fated Miss England II, which he sailed for the first time in the trophy competition last fall.

Gar Wood, of Detroit, former record-holder and defender of the trophy is fully ready to represent the United States and will sail with the team.

"I realize Commodore Wood is a very formidable opponent indeed," Don said, "and we can only do the best we can."

Landis Approves Dickey Suspension

CHICAGO, July 21.—(AP)—Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis approved the suspension of William "Bill" Dickey, New York Yankee catcher, who was declared ineligible until August 4 and fined $1,000 for breaking Carl Reynolds' jaw.

Dickey assaulted the Washington outfielder July 4 when the latter scored standing up, breaking the lower jaw in two places. President Will Harridge, of the American league, levied the fine and suspension, which were upheld by the league directors in their summer session at Cleveland.

Commissioner Landis also cancelled the Chicago White Sox optional recall of the St. Louis Cardinals, who was sent to Buffalo of the International league, and approved the application of Earl J. "Sparky" Adams, of the St. Louis club, to be placed on the voluntarily retired list.

Feature Mixed Card At Buckhead Arena

Promoter F. E. Owens offers an all-star mixed card in the Buckhead gymnasium, at 200 Peachtree road, tonight, starting promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

Young Zyzanski meets A. E. Bell in the feature wrestling bout.

Another match will feature Bill Collins, Atlanta, against Wayne Coleman, of Roswell, Ga., in a one-hour, two-out-of-three-falls match.

The boxing card will feature two promising fighters in Jim Jeffries and Buddie Westmorland, who meet in a six-rounder. A four-rounder will also be included on the card, with the usual battle royal opening the show.

TOUGH MEETS.
Only three champions ever have repeated in the state amateur frank event in Michigan.

M'HENRY, BRYAN NEW ADDITIONS; JOIN THIS WEEK

Former U. S. B. Star and Bridgeport Player Seen as Aid.

By Ralph McGill.

Two new outfielders will join the Crackers this week, it was announced yesterday by Business Manager Frank H. Ross. They are Art McHenry, Atlanta boy, purchased from Toronto, and James Bryan, of the Bridgeport club.

McHenry is one of the Atlanta boys who made good in baseball without a local start. He played with the University School of Boys and has been in professional baseball for the past three or four seasons.

This season he has played with the Toronto club and was with a New York-Pennsylvania league club for a time. His hitting has not been up to its usual standards but playing conditions with the last-place Toronto club have not been satisfactory. McHenry feels that he will do better with the Cracker club even though he is jumping from one last-place team to another.

McHenry looked unusually good in exhibition games here last spring. The Toronto club trained at Ponce de Leon.

Bryan is a real outfielder. He was carried along by the Giants for several seasons and would have been retained by them had not the Eastern league folded up. It is likely that a strong team has been kept in mind. McHenry's hitting has not been impressive but he should improve in this league.

Bryan will undoubtedly strengthen the outfield. His coming probably means that St. Louis' Hank Hefner, who has dropped off tremendously, will be released. He is already under suspension.

Bryan will be put into the lineup immediately on arrival. He is expected to reach Chattanooga by Sunday. The Crackers and a four-game series there on that date.

Grant, Sutter Beaten In Doubles

HUNTINGTON, N. Y., July 21.—The high-ranking doubles team of Gregory S. Mangin, Newark, N. J., and Berkeley Bell, New York, played together for the first time in months and won their first round match in the Cresent-Hamilton Club invitation today.

The No. 1 seeded team advanced to the second round by defeating Henry Holden, Houston, Texas, and Hal Sutter, New Orleans, and Bryan Grant Jr., Atlanta, was beaten in the first round by Henry Colley and Elbe Lewis, Los Angeles, 7-5, 5-6, 6-3.

BOND LEADING CLEANERS MEET

Robert Bond with a 66, two over par, took the lead Thursday in the qualifying round of the Lloyds Cleaners invitation golf tournament, being played on the Candler Park municipal course.

The low scorers are Jim Brant, 71; R. E. Bell, 75, and J. McCarty and Duke Turner, 76 each.

Qualifying will continue through Sunday afternoon and the event is open to every amateur golfer in the city. There is no entry fee and trophies and prizes will be given to the winner and runner-up in each flight. There will be a many flights as necessary to take care of every entry.

Wallace Linqvist, the Candler Park professional, is in charge of the tournament and is receiving the registrations.

Landis Approves Dickey Suspension

CHICAGO, July 21.—(AP)—Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis approved the suspension of William "Bill" Dickey, New York Yankee catcher, who was declared ineligible until August 4 and fined $1,000 for breaking Carl Reynolds' jaw.

Dickey assaulted the Washington outfielder July 4 when the latter scored standing up, breaking the lower jaw in two places. President Will Harridge, of the American league, levied the fine and suspension, which were upheld by the league directors in their summer session at Cleveland.

Commissioner Landis also cancelled the Chicago White Sox optional recall of the St. Louis Cardinals, who was sent to Buffalo of the International league, and approved the application of Earl J. "Sparky" Adams, of the St. Louis club, to be placed on the voluntarily retired list.

Grant Signs Statement Asking Full Privileges of Seabright Club.

HUNTINGTON, N. Y., July 21.—(AP)—The first known strike in American tennis history is brewing and may reach a head within the next few days.

Indications to this effect developed today at the Crescent Hamilton Club where a meeting was held by the tennis players who have been invited to compete in the annual Seabright tennis tournament starting Monday at the famous New Jersey coast club.

Fourteen players, including three ranked among the country's first ten, signed a telegram directed to Hooker Talcott, of the Seabright Lawn Tennis and Cricket Club, requesting assurance that the players will be given full courtesies of the club during the entire tournament.

This was in answer to the invitation sent them recently and in which each player was notified he would have to pay his own expenses as soon as eliminated from the tourney.

Until the 1931 play at Seabright, players in the tournament had generally been the guests of the club throughout the six days of the tournament, irrespective of how long they remained in the play.

The statement signed by the players pointed out that inasmuch as their efforts had made the Seabright tournament financially successful in the past, they considered it only fair for the club to pay all of their expenses for the duration of the tourney.

The statement was signed by Berkeley Bell, New York; Wilbur F. Coen Jr., Kansas City; Joe Coughlin and H. M. Culler, California; Bryan Grant, Atlanta; Keith Glendhill, Santa Barbara, Cal.; J. Gilbert Hall, Newark, N. J.; Jake Hess, Texas; Clifford Sutter, New Orleans; Richard Murphy, Tifton, N. Y.; David Jones, Jerome Land, Julius Seligson and Eugene McCulliff, of New York.

Big Bill Tilden, when national champion, refused to play there on two or three occasions and Fred Mercur—who today signed the wire though he has not been invited to play at Seabright—"walked out" on the Jersey club in 1930 in order to appear in a Michigan tournament.

Barons To Play Sunday Contest July Thirty-First

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 21.—(AP)—Birmingham will play its first game of Sunday baseball against Chattanooga, July 31.

Billy West, president of the Birmingham baseball club, announced today the Southern association schedule had been juggled to give the Barons a Sabbath game at home against the Lookouts on that date and with Knoxville August 21.

Sunday baseball was voted by a majority of more than two to one at a special election July 12.

Threats that the Protestant Pastors' Union would attempt to prevent the games because of an old state statute were dissolved today with a statement by Dr. O. S. Kimbrough, chairman of the union's steering committee.

"We are through," Dr. Kimbrough said. "We have no wish to go further. Our business is to keep people out of trouble—not to get them in trouble."

"What about that big surplus the major leagues have stored up for a rainy day? It has been suggested that the majors turn some of that money over to the minors to tide them over the bumps?" he was asked.

"Supposing so?" he asked. "I know you're talking foolishness," the old judge fired back. "Sometimes I don't know who's in the craziest profession—you or I, Godfrey."

Except for a few editorials by sports writers, who believe that the major leagues should come to the rescue of the fast-fading minors, no concerted move in such direction has been discovered so far.

The entire problem unquestionably will reach a showdown next December when the minor league owners hold their annual meeting in Columbus, Ohio. At the last meeting, no definite major league help was forthcoming, and the minors elected their veteran president, Mike Sexton, of Rock Island, Ill., and turned the control of the organization over to a committee. The committee will make its report at the next meeting.

The German flyer has tied the world's 100-meter record at 10.3 and he is tipped as the fastest sprinter Europe ever knew. If he is any faster than the Harold Abrahams of 1924 he won't be far away.

The United States track team still sees the shadow that hung over the Paris and Amsterdam speedways of 1924 and 1928 where we turned in only two winners on the flat. So the fact that sprinting and running prospects look to be dipped in pink today can't be accepted as any part of a certainty that the long lane has turned at last. Some unbelieved artists, such as Percy Williams, may upset the soothsayers at any spot.

With money as scarce as it is today, foreign nations are not sending any punks over just for the trip. And none of them have had to face the third or fourth month's heavy competition, which some of our best have known. Which means, in several instances, a better chance to be at the peak at the right time. It is only the day of the race or jump that counts. ## LADIES STATES MAJORS UNABLE TO HELP MINORS

Would Take Congress and Treasury To Pull Them Out, He Says.

By Paul Mickelson.

CHICAGO, July 21.—(AP)—Kenaw Mountain Landis, the fiery commissioner of all organized baseball today said he couldn't spr a single financial angel over the minor league horizon.

"Yes, yes, I know the minor leagues, especially those of lower classification, are having their financial worries," he said explosively, "but what can I or any major league do? It would take an act of congress and the United States treasury to pull them out."

"Baseball is suffering just like all other business. It just seems that it can't be helped. They'll get along all right in time. Five B and C leagues already have suspended, while a lot of others, A leagues included, are caught in the general depression, and a lot of business houses are in a whole lot worse shape than some of the weakest and sickest minor leagues."

"What about that big surplus the major leagues have stored up for a rainy day? It has been suggested that the majors turn some of that money over to the minors to tide them over the bumps?" he was asked.

"Supposing so?" he asked. "I know you're talking foolishness," the old judge fired back. "Sometimes I don't know who's in the craziest profession—you or I, Godfrey."

THE SPORTLIGHT

LOS ANGELES, Calif., July 21.—If variety is the spice of life, as reported in many dispatches, then Los Angeles is the spice capital of the sporting world.

For many days we have been listening to the fast or steady tramp of runners, the chuck of the jumpers, the splash of the swimmers, the thud of horses' feet, the wham of the left hook, the grunt of the weight throwers and other well known echoes that accompany Olympic training.

Today in passing two high school fields a new note was added, where the atmosphere was suddenly rife with an old, familiar sound that usually travels with early frost and burning leaves.

This new note was the dull boom of the punt and the body crash of 200 pounders moving at top speed.

Could it be football? It couldn't be anything else.

The two football fields were side by side with only a high planked wall intervening.

In the first there were Howard Jones, of Southern California, and Pop Warner, of Stanford, handling a squad of 1932 seniors picked from these two universities and California.

In the next lot there were Ted Jones, Mal Stevens and Adam Walsh, of Yale; Eskey Clarke, of Harvard, and Ned Poe, of Princeton, working to mingle and mold the football elements of Harvard, Yale and Princeton for the big east-west exhibition or demonstration booked for the night of August 8 in the Olympic stadium.

It is violating no intimate confidence to suggest that the eastern invaders have a hard night coming, even with Ernie Pinckert absent.

The eastern list includes such stars as Rota, Yale, and Myerson, of Harvard, at guard; Barres, of Yale and Lee, of Princeton, at ends; Crickard, of Harvard, and others in the backfield, but at present it lacks the well-balanced power of the western lineup that has a big strong line flanked by Arbelbide and Stone on two great ends, with the slashing, driving Gaus Shaver in the backfield.

No extended inspection is required to see that Mr. Shaver can play a lot of football in almost every department of the game. Weighing around 190 pounds, compactly built, he is also alert and active, ready at all times to run, kick, kick, pass and tackle, as the case may be. And even a rather bawdy, sunny forenoon wasn't enough to suppress his continued pep.

Tad Jones crossed the first field just as the all-California combination was trying out a double pass, hooked to a forward.

"Just a minute," Tad called to his brother, Howard. "No tricks, please. You wouldn't try to fool us, would you?"

"They not only grow them big out this way," Tad added later, "but they also grow them fast."

I suggested to Pop Warner that he revive his Carlisle Indian squad and play to nothing under 100,000.

"I've got a better idea than that," Pop said. "I'd like to go to Patagonia, where they grow nothing but giants and see what I could do in a year or two with a team that averaged 250 or 275 pounds to the man and was also active. No one could pass over them or run through them but of course they might slip under them."

This would be an ideal spot for any coach where there are no alumni and no eligibility rules.

The main idea of the United States team upon arrival at Olympic village was to keep the edge and form shown at Palo Alto without any attempt to put on a keenly felt training. Eastman was left behind for further rest and when he reports next Monday he will do little more than work at the springs.

Eastman and Bill Carr have some hard competition to face and there is still a strong feeling in the rest of the Easterners of March and April, fast enough to travel the quarter in 46.4, can outstep any 400-meter man in the world.

The main problem here is to restore as much of his reserve in nervous energy as 10 days or two weeks can accomplish. The big job is to refuel the vital spark.

The two best 100-meter men arrived here only a day apart. They are Art Meier, of the United States, and Jonath, of Germany. The German flyer has tied the world's 100-meter record at 10.3 and he is tipped as the fastest sprinter Europe ever knew. If he is any faster than the Harold Abrahams of 1924 he won't be far away.

DEATHS OF TWO GIRLS VEILED IN MYSTERY

LAKE CITY, Minn., July 21.—(P) Death under mysterious circumstances followed two country girls who gaily

Their partially-clad bodies, one nearly submerged in the Zumbro river, were found 22 miles from here, one late last night and the other today. The victims were Louise Briggs, 24,

The latter was visiting at the Prigge farm when the two men called there.

Officers said they had not learned who the men were. W. H. Prigge, father of Louise, said he did not know them.

The body of Miss Prigge, taken from the river by campers, showed no outward signs of violence, the coroner said, and there was no water in the lungs.

The body of Miss Polikowski was found on the riverbank a half mile away. The coroner planned an examination of both for traces of poison.

Officers expressed belief the girls died some distance from where the bodies were found.

The coroner said Miss Prigge appeared to have been dead about 12 hours. He had not examined the body of Miss Polikowski.

He was unable to advance a motive

Mr. Prigge, a widower, said the men came to his home in an automobile.

CAROLINA POWER TAX IS DECLARED VALID

Legality of South Carolina Levy Is Upheld by Three-Judge Court.

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 21.—(AP)—The validity of South Carolina's tax on power was upheld in an opinion by a three-judge federal court filed here today and applications for a permanent injunction against its collection were denied.

The court heard arguments in Asheville, N. C., in June.

Its opinion denies applications of the Broad River Power Company, the Lexington Water Power Company and the South Carolina Power Company for permanent injunctions.

Two of the complainants, the Lexington Water Power Company and the Broad River Company, have already stipulated they would appeal to the United States supreme court.

The power tax was passed by the 1932 general assembly, levying a half mill on each kilowatt hour of power generated or sold in the state. Litigation was immediately begun by the power companies.

Cross Sections of Life In Gate City of South

Mayor James L. Key Thursday approved a request that Atlanta be made a separate community with all functions now performed by Fulton and DeKalb counties, in which the city lies. It is a request to the Georgia assembly and will be presented at the next session of the legislature.

Public hearings on two measures passed Monday by council have been scheduled for 10 o'clock this morning by Mayor James L. Key. One provides that automobiles may be parked on Atlanta streets at night without tail lights if they are equipped with red glass reflectors. The other makes mandatory that all milk and dairy products carry the trade marks of distributors on them. All other measures passed by council were approved Thursday.

All World War veterans in Fulton county were requested to meet at the Ansley hotel at 7:30 o'clock tonight to hear and discuss plans of W. W. Waters, commander of the "army" in Washington, concerning change in tactics made necessary by the adjournment of congress. Veterans interested in the cash payment of compensation certificates were urged to attend.

Members of the Junior Order in Fulton county were invited to attend a joint meeting of the Boosters' Club of the Junior O. U. A. M. and the Eureka Council No. 7 at 8 o'clock tonight.

Chicken supper will be served by the women members of the Peachtree Baptist church from 4 to 8 o'clock Saturday afternoon on the church lawn at Briarcliff and LaVista roads. The general public is invited to attend.

Descendants of John A. and Mary R. Mann, formerly of Monroe county, Georgia, will hold the nineteenth family reunion at 10 o'clock Sunday morning at Grant park, when a basket dinner will be served to relatives gathered from Georgia and other southern states.

Mrs. Herbert C. Bell, field secretary of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Lutheran Church in America, will address a missionary rally at 8 o'clock Monday night at the Lutheran Church of the Messiah in Kirkwood. The public is invited.

Basil Stockbridge and Walter Emory will debate the subject, "Was Congress Correct in Refusing To Pay the Cash Bonus?" at the regular weekly luncheon of Atlanta Post No. 1, American Legion, at 12:30 o'clock today at the Ansley hotel.

Friends and supporters of Paul S. Etheridge, candidate for judge of Fulton county superior court, opposing Judge Gus H. Howard, Thursday night rallied at two gatherings. One was held at the home of H. B. Belinger, ninth ward, and the other at the home of Mrs. N. A. Lanford, third ward.

Fourth Corps Area Civilian Aides medal, based on conception of civic responsibility, ability in team work, athletics, military, force, marksmanship, command, courtesy, and camp popularity, was received by A. Foster Fitzsimons Jr., of Atlanta, over more than 700 other young men of South Carolina and Georgia who are in training at Sullivan's island, it was learned Thursday. The award is given at the camp each year. Young Fitzsimons is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Foster Fitzsimons, of 89 East Park lane.

CONNER MAY THWART REDISTRIBUTING FOES JACKSON, Miss., July 21.—(AP)—In the wake of announcement today by opponents of the congressional redistricting bill of plans to carry the fight on the act's constitutionality to the federal courts, interest tonight turned to the possible effect in the event the measure is set aside.

Governor Sennett Conner, when informed that a petition would be filed in federal court tomorrow renewing the attack on the act, spoke of the possibility of summoning an extraordinary session of the legislature if the federal court issued an injunction tying up the state's congressional election machinery.

He pointed out that a special session of the legislature could be legally summoned before the democratic party assembly could set back the date for the primary and pass a new redistricting bill.

GRAND JURY PROBES 'THIRD-DEGREE' DEATH

New York Officials Seek Indictments Against 13 Policemen.

NEW YORK, July 21.—(AP)—A parade of witnesses marched in and out of the grand jury room today as Nassau county authorities pressed speedy indictments against 13 policemen involved in the third-degree killing of Hyman Stark.

State police superceded county officers in the case as the grand jury session began. District Attorney Elvin N. Edwards said he requested this move to free county police from any embarrassment they might feel in working on the case. Twenty-six persons went before the grand jury and told what they knew of circumstances connected with Stark's death. The youth died of strangulation after being subjected to questioning in connection with a body found on a detective's mother.

None of the witnesses remained in the sweltering chamber longer than 15 minutes, most of them for a much shorter period.

Indictments charging second-degree murder were being sought against four policemen. The others have been charged tentatively with assault and conspiracy to obstruct justice.

Among the witnesses were Dr. Otto A. Schultze, who performed an autopsy on Stark's body, and announced the youth had suffered broken neck bones, causing strangulation. He said Stark had been evidence of a severe puning.

Other witnesses included three newspaper reporters, who said they heard screams from the police headquarters basement on Friday, a few hours before Stark died.

George Mulry, counsel for 12 of the 13 accused policemen, earlier had said he would not permit any of the defendants to appear before the grand jury.

Skipper Roosevelt's Seamanship Wins Praise of Veteran Sailing Man

In the following story, written exclusively for the Associated Press, George Briggs, the only member of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt's yachting party off the New England coast who is not a member of the family, describes his impressions of the democratic presidential candidate as a skipper. Briggs, who has 10 years of experience with sailing craft and who was in the navy during the war, was particularly impressed by the manner in which Governor Roosevelt handled the Myth II in "tight places."

BY GEORGE BRIGGS. Written for the Associated Press. (Copyright, 1932, by The Associated Press.) ON BOARD ROOSEVELT YAWL, MYTH II, LITTLE HARBOR, N. H., July 21.—(AP)—Sunday I finished a week as a sailor under the command of "Skipper" Roosevelt, the democratic presidential nominee. I regret that it is over. Rain today prevented the governor from taking a final sail off Little Harbor with Barbara and Mary Cushing and Mrs. Betsy Cushing Roosevelt, wife of James.

The governor is a fine skipper and a ship's master without equal in my 15 years' experience in the navy and every kind of sailing craft. It was a very great privilege to be able to join Governor Roosevelt and his party on their cruise from Port Jefferson, N. Y., to Portsmouth, N. H. When his son, James, invited me I lost no time in accepting.

The Myth II is a centerboard yawl, maroon rigged, and a far cry from the heavy old schooner, Half Moon, in which Governor Roosevelt had cruised every summer for some 15 years prior to the war.

Right at the outset, alongside the dock at Port Jefferson, he found himself facing one of those decisions a skipper always has to meet. He had a fresh breeze dead ahead, and a strong head tide through the narrow harbor entrance. The last words of caution from the owner as he left the governor in charge were, "She does not like to be run backward very well in a heavy breeze."

The governor would have liked to sail gradually away from the dock, with the camera clicked and the crowd cheered, but he prudently accepted a low and we set all sail outside the harbor. He had no way of telling how the boat would handle in close quarters, or answer to the strange crew.

We had a rollicking sail across the sound with the wind at the beam. Two-thirds of the way over the breeze had freshened so that the Myth was steering hard and the skipper elected to double the helm in the channel. Then it was that the governor found that she handled beautifully under jib and mizzen, her helm was easier and she kept right on traveling under the reduced rig.

From the western end of New Haven breakerwater we ran down into Morris Cove, where we had a lee shore and an open sweep of three miles in the calm. The governor worked in through the anchorage of the New Haven Yacht Club and rounded up in most approved fashion. We let go both anchors and after dragging about a hundred feet they held us fast. It was a pretty fair test of seamanship, and if the governor had had any nerves, we would have heard from them then.

The following day we had a fair breeze and the run was uneventful. We were amazed with the speed. The Myth showed off the wind. Between Stonington and Cuttyhunk the next day we had a chance to play with the light sails. Not content with setting the balloon jib we tried various sails and we found in the locker as mizzen stay sails and spinnakers.

The wind hauled a little, and some of the crew were a bit seasick. The following day we had a fair breeze and the run was uneventful. We were amazed with the speed. The Myth showed off the wind. # Loan Right Granted To More Veterans

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(AP)—Approximately 215,000 World War veterans will be able to borrow half the value of their bonus certificates from the veterans' administration offices after Monday, July 25, under the terms of an act signed today by President Hoover.

The measure, besides removing the previous requirements that two years before certificates could be borrowed on, reduces the interest on such loans to 3 1/2 per cent from 4 1/2.

Five Boats Swamped On Lake in Michigan

PONTIAC, Mich., July 21.—(AP)—Five small boats were swamped by a heavy wind and rainstorm which struck Pontiac lake tonight and the number of persons drowned was estimated at from eight to 15.

The lake was dotted with floating parties when the storm broke. Scouting parties were hastily organized after the five boats had been found swamped. One body was recovered and taken to the hospital. The others have been on the lake in progress to determine how many made their way to shore safely.

The storm came at the close of a hot sultry day which sent hundreds of persons to the lakes which dot Oakland county in search of relief. Pontiac lake is one of the smaller of the bodies of water and is seven miles from Pontiac.
